Career Research Paper

The career that I had in mind when I first began college was one in counseling psychology. Luckily, this career was one matched closely to my interests and personality type. Although I've begun considering other career avenues, I still chose to research this specific career in depth.

A person in counseling psychology will typically use personality tests/assessments, interviews, case histories, and observation methods to evaluate a patient's problems, needs, and goals. Counseling psychologists will evaluate data and, from there, create an action plan or treatment plan to counsel the patient with. The goal in this career is to help each patient work toward developing and adjusting social, educational, personal, and vocational skills.

I'm most definitely interested in this career. I've always had an interest in listening to people and their "problems". Even in my early teenage years, and now into my adult years, people of all ages have come to me for emotional support, advice, and confidentiality. I've wondered what people see in me, but have always been humbled by the trust people place in me. The idea of helping people achieve a happier lifestyle is thrilling to me. The idea of being the person that one person can talk to about anything is very exciting and fulfilling to me; I love the idea of being a problem solver.

I see this career as having many advantages and few disadvantages. From a personal standpoint, the biggest disadvantage or problem I foresee is becoming too wrapped up in a patient's problems. I tend to worry, so this roadblock may be one to
