distance to markets and input use According to the mixed model regression fertiliser use increased with distance travelled however mainly for the larger farm groups Moreover simple scatterplots did also indicate a relationship between higher prices for fertiliser and distance Although only explaining a small fraction of the relationship use of credit products decreased as distance increased Further a combination of descriptive and spatial statistics also indicates that there is a regional disparity in the level of education and amount of capital assets Although that the author remains cautious of concluding on these results it is suggested that greater market access in terms of inputs education and knowledge sharing for smallholders would increase their chances of engaging in commercial activit Canada, Statistical Abstract and
