My work placement was a statutory project situated within North Lanarkshire Council. North Lanarkshire council is one of the largest new unitary authorities in Scotland with a population of over 326,000, which 1.3% of the population are from a minority ethnic group, compared with 2% for Scotland as a whole. The area has a range of different communities ranging from small villages to towns, the council challenge to provide services, which are responsive to the needs of these different communities. (www.Northlan.gov)

North Lanarkshire was traditionally part of the Scottish industrial heartland with a strong identity relating to their industrial history, but the decline of industries has resulted in a widespread of unemployment and the increase of problems associated with social exclusion, poverty and disadvantage, which I later found to be a common theme experienced by service users with whom I would work with.

The social work department is one of the largest departments in the council employing just under 3,000 people in various areas. "There aim is to promote social inclusion and social welfare by tackling poverty and disadvantage. Through indicating a commitment to poverty and disadvantage, working in partnership with other agencies to improve supports and resources and involving individuals in identifying their needs, the council aim to provide a high quality of care to all individuals living in the area." (www.Northlan.gov)

An anti-discrimination policy is in place within North Lanarkshire, however the majority of the service users are white females. This could be considered to be unusual when today we live in a multi-cultural society and raises questions about policies in place, which meet the needs of other cultures. A survey completed by Bilingual pupils in March 2002 indicated that there were 33 languages other than English spoken in the homes in North Lanarkshire. (Support learning services North Lanarkshire Council.) Implementing additional policy to accommodate other cultures, beliefs and norms could help to encounter feelings of separation and mistrust. Thompson (2001) notes that using the PCS (Personal, Structural and Cultural) framework for anti discriminatory practice, shows that discrimination doesn't stop at the personal level. Individuals learn and internalise beliefs from our culture and the structure of society. Frequently held stereotypes in society may raise discriminatory actions towards others. He discusses the regularly expressed view "that Asian families 'look after their own'" (p67) and it could be argued that this belief may prevent Asian clients being offered the service they require. These factors should possibly be considered when looking at the process of referrals and assessment.

The Council's actions to identify and meet the needs of minority ethnic groups include, a Race Equality Scheme and Action Plan, published in November 2002; a Social Work Racial Equality working group, set up

The Routledge Handbook of Social Work Field Education in the Global South Rajendra Baikady, Sajid S.M., Varoshini Nadesan, M. Rezaul Islam, 2022-07-08 This handbook provides an authoritative account of social work field education in the global south. It presents an overview of various aspects of theory and practice modules in the social work curriculum and advances in research in social work field education in the developing world through in-depth analyses and global case studies. Key features: Discusses critical issues and new directions in the theory and practice of social work field education; challenges in field work education; decolonising field work training; developing competent social work graduates; aligning fieldwork with cultural practices in indigenous communities; the idea of clinical social work and a comparative analysis of social work field supervision. Integrates theory and practice of social work field education for students and teachers from diverse geographical and cultural contexts across the global south including countries from South Asia and Asia, Africa and Latin America and the Caribbean covering India, Bangladesh, Pakistan, Nepal, Sri Lanka, China, Georgia, Philippines, Turkey, Papua New Guinea, Eswatini, Republic of Trinidad and Tobago, Kenya, Nigeria, South Africa, Botswana, Chile and Barbados. Brings together international comparative perspectives on field work education in social work from leading experts, social work educators and social work professionals. This handbook will be an essential resource for scholars and researchers of social work development studies, social anthropology, sociology, education, South Asian studies and Global South studies. It will also be useful to educators and practitioners of social work in global institutions of higher studies as well as civil society organisations. Ancient World: Lesson Overviews, 5th ed., A Field Guide for Social Workers Shelagh Larkin, 2018-07-10 Integrating theory with practice. A Field Guide for Social Workers Applying Your Generalist Training helps students understand and overcome the challenges of field education. This comprehensive text provides the necessary tools to develop and demonstrate core competencies set forth by the Council on Social Work Education (CSWE) using the author's generalist field education approach grounded in generalist practice literature. Integrative activities and reflection questions directly apply generalist training to field experience. Students will be equipped to meet the goals of the field and realize their potential as generalist practitioners.
