The design started with the idea of creating a portable, on-site extension to the house, one with heavy, especially hard building requirements.

With the existing site limitations and knowing these boundaries at the same time, ideas emerged by designing a mobile unit, a blob.

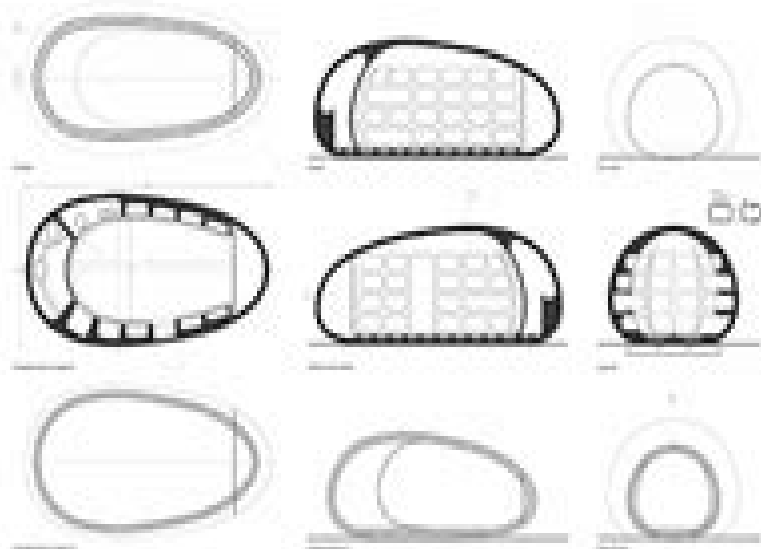

An a-frame construction and making a high dome of air inflated around the steel building module.

BLOB, as a bubble, worked on levels as the project, resulting in the smooth building shape.

Basically building a frame frame covered up with a stretching material and painted with polycarbonate. Shaped by handling the polycarbonate and inflating again, ready, the space was built up with niches, typically 40cm. The dome is inflated the water to make that was filled up with 40cm thickness.

The space-egg houses all necessary items one could possibly need: bathroom, kitchen, lighting, storage and several niches to store the stuff. The nose can be opened automatically and functions as a kind of porch.

This bubble can naturally use as an office, a greenhouse, a workshop, a garden house, or any other space. The material used is polycarbonate, water can be a big concern and a water tank is very close up needed.
