

The background of the book cover is a photograph of a mountain landscape. In the foreground, a river flows over dark, jagged rocks. The middle ground shows a dense forest of evergreen trees. In the upper right, a small wooden cabin with a glowing yellow light inside is visible, partially obscured by the trees. The sky is a mix of blue and white, suggesting a cloudy day.

Travel and Translation in the Early Modern Period Carmine Di Biase, 2006 The relationship between travel and translation might seem obvious at first but to study it in earnest is to discover that it is at once intriguing and elusive Of course travelers translate in order to make sense of their new surroundings sometimes they must translate in order to put food on the table The relationship between these two human compulsions however goes much deeper than this What gets translated it seems is not merely the written or the spoken word but the very identity of the traveler These seventeen essays which treat not only such well known figures as Martin Luther Erasmus Shakespeare and Milton but also such lesser known figures as Konrad Grunenberg Leo Africanus and Garcilaso de la Vega constitute the first survey of how this relationship manifests itself in the early modern period
