other molecular technologies remains a limiting factor in the common implementation of these methods for diagnosis and research of rare diseases in resource limited settings The study of rare genetic diseases in LMICs may be underestimated when compared to large scale genomic studies performed in developed countries despite being performed under much strained circumstances Consequently research publications on the genetics of RDs within LMICs might be underrepresented in the literature limiting the understanding of genetic and phenotypic variability across populations and contributing to the lack of representation of non European individuals in genetic studies This Research Topic aims to provide an opportunity for researchers and clinicians from LMICs who are dedicated to the study of rare genetic disorders to share their findings with the global genetics scientific community as well as their challenges and perspectives on the implementation of modern technologies and approaches for the diagnosis and study of rare genetic disorders Nature Sir Norman Lockyer,1869
