

Unit 3: Acids and Bases

This unit activity will help you meet these chemistry goals:

- 1. Science Inquiry.—This unit explores the nature of acids, bases, acids and bases reacting, including their properties and behavior, and collecting information that can be used to determine their properties.
- 2. Chemical Reactions.—This unit explores relationships between acids and bases.

Introduction

Acids and bases are common in our daily lives. Acids are found in many foods, such as lemons, oranges, and vinegar. Bases are found in many household products, such as soap, bleach, and ammonia. Acids and bases are important in many chemical reactions, including the reactions that occur in our bodies. In this unit, you will learn about acids and bases, how they react, and how they are used in everyday life.

- Is the compound an acid or a base?
- Is the compound strong or weak?

In this activity, you will explore the relationship between acids and bases and how they react. You will learn about the properties of acids and bases, how they are used in everyday life, and how they react with each other. You will also learn about the importance of acids and bases in many chemical reactions, including the reactions that occur in our bodies. This unit will help you understand the role of acids and bases in chemistry and in our lives.

Objectives and Activities

Task 1: Acids and Bases in Real-World Applications

Many common household items are acids or bases. In this activity, you will explore the properties of acids and bases, how they are used in everyday life, and how they react with each other. You will also learn about the importance of acids and bases in many chemical reactions, including the reactions that occur in our bodies.

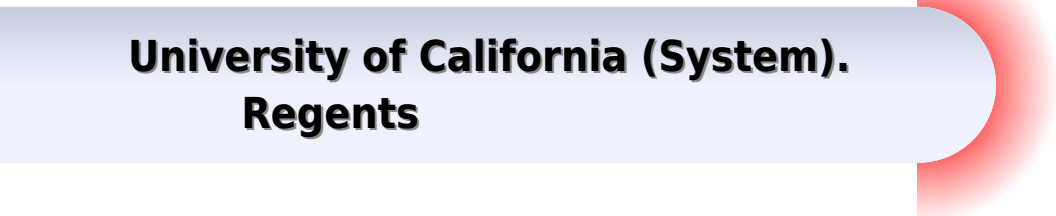

- 1. For this activity, you will explore the relationship between acids and bases and how they react. You will learn about the properties of acids and bases, how they are used in everyday life, and how they react with each other. You will also learn about the importance of acids and bases in many chemical reactions, including the reactions that occur in our bodies.

Key points to remember:

Acids are compounds that donate protons (H⁺). Bases are compounds that accept protons (H⁺). Acids and bases react to form salts and water. The pH scale is used to measure the acidity or basicity of a solution. The pH scale ranges from 0 to 14, with 7 being neutral. Solutions with a pH below 7 are acidic, and solutions with a pH above 7 are basic.
