

THE SCIENCE OF PERSUASION

Researchers have been studying the factors that influence us to say "Yes" to the requests of others for over 60 years. There can be no doubt that there's a science to how we are persuaded, and a lot of the science is surprising.

The First Universal Principle of Influence is Reciprocity

- Simply put, people are obliged to give back to others the form of a behavior, gift, or service that they have received first.
- If a friend invites you to their party, there's an obligation for you to invite them to a future party you are hosting. If a colleague does you a favor, then you owe that colleague a favor. And in the context of a social obligation people are more likely to say yes to those who they owe.

The Second Universal Principle of Persuasion is Scarcity

- Simply put, people want more of those things they can have less of.
