Energy storage is one of the most important enablers for the transformation to a sustainable energy supply with greater mobility. For vehicles but also for many stationary applications the batteries used for energy storage are very flexible but also have a rather limited lifetime compared to other storage principles. This Special Issue is a collection of articles that collectively address the following questions: What are the factors influencing the aging of different energy storage technologies? How can we extend the lifetime of storage systems? How can the aging of an energy storage be detected and predicted? When do we have to exchange the storage device? The articles cover lithium ion batteries, supercaps and flywheels.

Since 1932 the ten editions of Architectural Graphic Standards have been referred to as the architect's bible. From site excavation to structures to roofs, this book is the first place to look when an architect is confronted with a question about building design. With more than 8,000 architectural illustrations including both reference drawings and constructible architectural details, this book provides an easily accessible graphic reference for highly visual professionals. To celebrate seventy-five years as the cornerstone of an industry, this commemorative Eleventh Edition is the most thorough and significant revision of Architectural Graphic Standards in a generation. Substantially revised to be even more relevant to today's design professionals, it features an entirely new innovative look and design created by Bruce Mau Design that includes a modern page layout, bold second color, and new typeface. Better organized, a completely new organization structure applies the UniFormat classification system which organizes content by function rather than product or material. Expanded and updated coverage of inclusive, universal, and accessible design strategies. Environmentally sensitive and sustainable.
