O Level Islamiat Specimen Paper 2013

Pauline Jones

O Level Islamiat Specimen Paper 2013:

NVMEN, the Academic Study of Religion, and the IAHR Tim Jensen, Armin Geertz, 2015-11-24 Nvmnen publishes papers representing the most recent scholarship in all areas of the history of religions ranging from antiquity to contemporary history. It covers a diversity of geographical regions and religions of the past as well as of the present. The approach of the journal to the study of religion is strictly non-confessional. While the emphasis lies on empirical source-based research, typical contributions also address issues that have a wider historical or comparative significance for the advancement of the discipline. Numen also publishes papers that discuss important theoretical innovations in the study of religion and reflective studies on the history of the discipline. Brill is proud to present this special volume of articles compiled to celebrate the occasion of the 60th anniversary of NVMEN International Review for the History of Religions in 2014. The articles in this volume have been selected under the auspices of the International Association for the History of Religions (IAHR) and reflect critically on the past, present and future of NVMEN, the IAHR and the study of the History of Religions. Islam, Christianity, and Secularism in Bulgaria and Eastern Europe Simeon Evstatiev, Dale F. Eickelman, 2022-04-25 Is there a return to the religious in post-Communist Eastern Europe that differs from religious trends in the West and the Middle East? Looking beyond immediate events, this book situates public talk about religion and religious practice in the longue dur e of the two entangled pasts: Byzantine and Ottoman, that implicitly underpin contemporary politics. Islam, Christianity and Secularism situates Bulgaria in its wider region, indicating ongoing Middle Eastern, Russian and other European influences shaping patterns of religious identity. The chapters point to overlapping and complementary views of ethno-religious belonging and communal practices among Orthodox Christians and Muslims throughout the region. Contributors are Dale F. Eickelman, Simeon Evstatiev, Kristen Ghodsee, Galina Evstatieva, Ilia Iliev, Daniela Kalkandjieva, Plamen Makariev, Momchil Metodiev, Daria Oreshina, Ivan Zabaev and Angeliki Ziaka. The Study of Religions in Ireland Brendan McNamara, Hazel O'Brien, 2022-06-02 This book provides a comprehensive and field-defining examination of the study of religions in Ireland. By bringing together some of the foremost experts on religions in an Irish context, it critically traces the development of an important field of study and evaluates the thematic threads that have emerged as significant. It thereby offers an assessment of contemporary religions in Ireland and their relationships to society, culture, economics, politics and the State. Contributors make connections between topics as diverse as Ireland's Revolutionary Period, the formation of the Irish State, the decline of Catholicism, the rise of migrant religions and New Religious Movements, and the effects of secularisation on religions and society. This book emphasizes the interdisciplinary nature of the study of religions whilst illustrating the coherent themes that have shaped the development of the field in Ireland, making it unique. Islam, Society, and Politics in Central Asia Pauline Jones, 2017-07-20 During the 1990s there was a general consensus that Central Asia was witnessing an Islamic revival after independence and that this occurrence would follow similar events throughout the Islamic world in the prior two decades which had negative effects on both social and political development Twenty years later we are still struggling to fully understand the transformation of Islam in a region that evolved through a complex and dynamic process involving diversity in belief and practice religious authority and political intervention This volume seeks to shed light on these crucial questions by bringing together an international group of scholars to offer a fresh perspective on Central Asian states and societies The chapters provide analysis through four distinct categories the everyday practice of Islam across local communities state policies toward Islam focusing on attempts to regulate public and private practice through cultural legal and political institutions and how these differ from Soviet policies how religious actors influence communities in the practice of Islam state policies towards the religion and subsequent communal responses to state regulations and how knowledge of and interaction with the larger Islamic world is shaping Central Asia's current Islamic revival and state responses The contributors a multidisciplinary and international group of leading scholars develop fresh insights that both corroborate and contradict findings from previous research while also highlighting the problem of making any generalizations about Islam in individual states or the region As such this volume provides new and impactful analysis for scholars students and policy makers concerned with Central Asia

The Transformational Process of the Presidency of Religious Affairs in Turkey Emine Enise Yakar, Sumeyra Yakar, 2017-06-01 This article focuses on the historically complex relations between the Presidency of Religious Affairs Diyanet and the Turkish state It asserts that the Diyanet from its establishment in 1924 to the present time has experienced transformation from a strictly state controlled institution to a more autonomous one This transformational process transpired sometimes overtly and sometimes covertly within the borders of the secular state In exploring this process the article analyzes the ways in which the institution's position has gradually risen within the state's constitution and how its religious discourses statements and activities have changed from nationalistic to holistic

Russia and the GCC Diana Galeeva, 2022-12-29 In recent decades Russia has played an increasingly active role in the Middle East as states within the region continue to diversify their relations with major external powers Yet the role of specific Russian regions especially those that share an Islamic identity with the GCC has been overlooked In this book Diana Galeeva examines the relations between the Gulf States and Russia from the Soviet era to the present day Using the Republic of Tatarstan one of Russia's Muslim polities as a case study Galeeva demonstrates the emergence of relations between modern Tatarstan and the GCC States evolving from concerns with economic survival to a rising paradiplomacy reliant on shared Islamic identities Having conducted fieldwork in the Muslim Republics of Tatarstan Bashkortostan and Dagestan the book includes interviews with high ranking political figures heads of religious organisations and academics Moving beyond solely economic and geopolitical considerations the research in this book sheds light on the increasingly important role that culture and shared Islamic identity play in paradiplomacy efforts

Constitution-making and Human Rights in the Sudans Lutz Oette, Mohamed Abdelsalam Babiker, 2018-12-20 Sudan and South Sudan have suffered from repeated cycles of conflict and authoritarianism resulting in serious human rights and humanitarian law violations Several efforts such as the 2005 Comprehensive Peace Agreement and transitional justice initiatives have recognized that the failure to develop a stable political and legal order is at the heart of Sudan's governance problems Following South Sudan's independence in 2011 parallel constitutional review processes are under way that have prompted intense debates about core issues of Sudan's identity governance and rule of law human rights protection and the relationship between religion and the State This book provides an in depth study of Sudan's constitutional history and current debates with a view to identifying critical factors that would enable Sudan and South Sudan to overcome the apparent failure to agree on and implement a stable order conducive to sustainable peace and human rights protection It examines relevant processes against the broader constitutional history of Sudan and identifies the building blocks for constitutional reforms through a detailed analysis of Sudanese law and politics The book addresses constitutionalism and constitutional rights protection in their political legal and institutional context in Sudan and South Sudan and the repercussions of the relationship between state and religion for the right to freedom of religion minority rights and women's rights

The Arms Race in the Middle East Mohammad Eslami, Alena Vysotskaya Guedes Vieira, 2023-07-28 This edited volume discusses security policy and strategic policymaking in the Middle East region Due to its unique geopolitical geoeconomic and geostrategic features the Middle East region has been confronted with challenging security issues Combined with a lack of an efficient regional security regime this has led to the formation of a full fledged arms race This book draws together contributions from international experts to address the factors that have been contributing to the ongoing formation of an arms race in the Middle East as well as the impact of this phenomenon on the regional and global security environment The book is organized in three sections The first section outlines the contemporary dynamics of the arms race in the Middle East by focusing on its most recent dynamics and their implications for regional and international security The second section conducts systematic analysis of case studies of country specific drivers of the arms race The third and final section examines the role of external actors in the arms race evaluating both the responses of regional actors to external interventions as well as the implications of the arms race for extra regional countries After Integration

Marian Burchardt, Ines Michalowski, 2014-11-26 The integration of Muslims into European societies is often seen as a major challenge that is yet to be confronted This book by contrast starts from the observation that on legal political and organizational levels integration has already taken place It showcases the variety of theoretical approaches that scholars have developed to conceptualize Muslim life in Europe and provides detailed empirical analysis of ten European countries Demonstrating how Muslim life unfolds between conviviality and contentious politics the contributors describe demographic developments analyze legal controversies and explore the action of government and state Muslim communities and other civil society actors Driving forces behind the integration of Islam are discussed in detail and compared across countries

Afghanistan and Its Neighbors after the NATO Withdrawal Kirill Nourzhanov, Amin Saikal, 2016-03-04 The planned reductions in NATO troop numbers in Afghanistan through 2015 and a final withdrawal at the end of 2016 brings up numerous pressing questions about the security and national interests of not just Afghanistan but of the broader region itself The problem of a chaotic Afghanistan or of an outright Taliban victory is of great concern to not only immediate neighbors such as Iran Pakistan and the former Soviet Central Asian republics to the north but also to those countries in the region with Afghanistan related security or economic concerns such as China and India Further abroad Russian American and European interests and plans for dealing with the fallout from Afghanistan must also be taken into account as these major powers have enduring interests in Afghanistan and the region This volume puts the prospects for short and mid term security dynamics at the core of the analysis with each case being placed in its proper contemporary historical economic and political context The book will offer a truly comprehensive nuanced and timely account of the security situation in and around Afghanistan

Asian Perceptions of Gulf Security Li-Chen Sim, Jonathan Fulton, 2022-11-28 Gulf stability is coming to play a larger role in the foreign policy calculus of many states but the evolving role of Asian powers is largely under represented in the International Relations literature This volume addresses this gap with a set of empirically rich theory driven case studies written by academics from or based in the countries in question The underlying assumption is not that Asian powers have already become important security actors in the Gulf but rather that they perceive the Gulf as a region of increasing strategic relevance How will leaders in these countries adjust to an evolving regional framework Will there be coordinated efforts to establish an Asian centered approach to Gulf stability or will Asian rivalries make the region a theater of competition Will US China tensions force alignment choices among Asian powers Will Asian states balance bandwagon hedge or adopt some other approach to their Gulf relationships These questions become even more important as the western boundaries of Asia increasingly come to incorporate the Middle East The book will appeal to scholars and students in the fields of International Relations Security Studies and International Political Economy as well as area specialists on the Gulf and those working on foreign policy issues on each of the Asian countries included Professionals in government and non government agencies will also find it very useful The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license Collaboration and Integration in Construction, Engineering, Management and Technology Syed M. Ahmed, Paul Hampton, Salman Azhar, Amelia D. Saul, 2020-12-21 This book gathers papers presented at the 11th International Conference on Construction in the 21st Century held in London in 2019 Bringing together a diverse group of government agencies academics professionals and students the book addresses issues related to construction safety innovative technologies lean and sustainable construction international construction improving quality and productivity and innovative materials in the construction industry In addition it highlights international collaborations between various disciplines in the areas of construction engineering management and technology The book demonstrates that as the industry moves forward in an ever complex global economy multi national collaboration is crucial and its future growth will undoubtedly depend on international teamwork and alliances
