Imagination for Inclusion Derek Bland, 2016-02-12 Imagination for Inclusion offers a reconsideration of the ways in which imagination engages and empowers learners across the education spectrum from primary to adult levels and in all subject areas. Imagination as a natural expedient and exciting learning tool should be central to any approach to developing and implementing curriculum but is increasingly undervalued as learners progress through the education system. This disregards not only imagination's potential but its paramount place in informing truly inclusive approaches to teaching and learning. This book presents a new theory of imagination and includes discussion about its application to teaching and learning to increase the engagement of disaffected students and reinvigorate their relationships with curriculum content. Chapters include key ideas and discussion surrounding the benefits of introducing imaginative practices into the classroom for learners from a range of marginalised backgrounds such as young people with disabilities and adult learners from socio economically disadvantaged environments. In exploring imagination in the practice of inclusive education, the book includes chapters from researchers and practitioners in education who have fresh ideas about how learners and teachers have benefited from introducing imaginative pedagogies. The diverse collection featuring writers with backgrounds from early childhood to adult education will be essential reading for academics and researchers in the fields of education, inclusive education, social policy, professional development, teacher education and creativity. It will be of particular interest to current and pre-service teachers who want to develop inclusive practice and increase the engagement of all students with formal education.

Riley's original and enduring practice grounds and contextualizes the images including new scholarship by art historian Richard Shiff texts on both the artist's wall paintings and newest body of work by Paul Moorhouse 20th Century Curator at the National Portrait Gallery in London and a 1978 interview with Robert Kudielka her longtime confidant and foremost critic. Additionally the book features little seen archival imagery of Riley at work over the years documentation of her recent commissions for St Mary's Hospital in West London taken especially for this publication and installation views of the exhibition itself installed throughout the three floors of the gallery's eighteenth century Georgian townhouse located in the heart of Mayfair.
