

Autobiographical Sketch

December 18, 2000, marks the day, I was gifted with life and the with the opportunity to leave my mark on society and with this, the desire to become a doctor did nothing but bloom. Growing up, I've always been fascinated with the wonders of life, and furthermore, science. Simple things, such as dressing a cut, or medication and lifestyle choices in order to battle illnesses interested me, to studying cells and different organisms.

I personally have never been a sickly child growing up, however I knew and was around many persons with a variety of ailments, so that is a factor in my drive to take on the profession of a doctor. A lot of deaths around me were due to sickness, and that has always left me wishing I could one day, help persons in those same situations, have a better end result. I've understood that my dad has had various illnesses. He's had a hole in his heart which had him in the hospital for a long while. Afterwards, there was another situation, in which he got extremely sick and was on the brink of death he had a near death experience, and the main cause of that still remains unknown. It's situations like this that has driven me to take on this journey towards indulging in a profession the medical field.

From a time, I can remember, I've always dreamed of becoming a doctor, and not once, through traversing infant, primary and high school, has that ever wavered or changed; it has only grown and evolved. I remember when I was very young, and asked what I wanted to become, and my only reply was "a doctor," and even afterwards when I've been asked that question, the answer, even varied, has remained the same. When I matriculated to high school, in my years from grade 7-9, the work I put in was solely to get a spot in the 10 science and technology core group, and beyond, and I was successful in doing so and doing my courses in that field right up until 6th form. In doing this course, my fascination in the sciences flourished, in participation in numerous experimental exercises. The Herbert Morrison Technical High School has gifted me with a vast area of knowledge that has helped me thus far in achieving my goal, and I am interested in your institution as I know I will be able to do greater development and achieve my goal there. The desire to pursue the medical profession has become potent need that I feel designated to fulfill, and that desire increases daily, hence it is something I'm determined to achieve one way or the other.

History of the Association of Black Psychologists Robert L. Williams, 2008 This book The History of Black Psychologists Profiles of Outstanding Black Psychologists is about the origins and development of African Black psychology It is essentially a sequel to Robert Guthrie's book Even the Rat Was White a historical view of psychology 1976 Whereas Guthrie's book contains the history of early Black Psychologists as Drs Francis Cecil Sumner Kenneth Clark and Martin Jenkins to name a few from 1920 to 1950 this book contains valuable information from the 60s through 2000 about why where and when the Association of Black Psychologists ABPsi was organized and developed In addition the book includes the autobiographical and biographical profiles of the lives achievements and contributions of nearly 50 outstanding Black psychologists There are many hard working dedicated and educated black men and women professionals whose success stories have not been told Although their peers and colleagues respect many of these professionals only a select few have been reported as outstanding What is it then that qualifies one as being exceptional above the ordinary and outstanding It is hard to define in terms of human traits and accomplishments What is easier is to provide examples rather than explanations of what it means to be outstanding Such individuals who exemplify the definition of outstanding are many unknown Black Psychologists This book will present some of these Scholar Activists It is apparent that the majority of the Black psychologists made it against the odds Many of these psychologists were born in southern states and had to migrate to northern states to receive a graduate education For Black achievement is invariably a triumph over odds a victory over struggle In order to receive graduate education these psychologists report how they had to overcome the destructive effects of racism Frequently they were the only Black students in the graduate program But they still made
