Shona Women in Zimbabwe--A Purchased People? John Chitakure,2016-09-29 The position and treatment of women in every religion culture and society have been subjects of concern for a long time In every society women fight for their emancipation from exploitive and oppressive patriarchal structures The most contentious issues include domestic violence gender discrimination and inequality in the areas of employment leadership and marriage Domestic violence tops the list and is the worst enemy of any progressive and democratic society It dehumanizes disfigures and demeans its victims and survivors Shona Women in Zimbabwe a Purchased People explores the causes of domestic violence the cultural practice of bridewealth in particular and assesses the extent to which it contributes to the proliferation of domestic violence among the Shona people of Zimbabwe It then explores the Christian traditions particularly the Roman Catholic Church in search of resources that can be used to emancipate Shona women from patriarchal subjugation Finally the book offers a pastoral response that is informed by the experiences of the Shona women their cultural resources and the Roman Catholic religious tradition Religion, Women's Health Rights, and Sustainable Development in Zimbabwe: Volume 2 Sophia

Chirongoma,Molly Manyonganise,Ezra Chitando,2022-08-26 This volume brings to the fore the interface of religion women s sexual reproductive health and rights SRHR and the sustainable development goals SDGs in Zimbabwe It emphasizes that empowering African women is a pivotal pillar for attaining sustainable development Contributors discuss the need for implementing structural changes as a prerequisite for social progress and development to occur in Southern Africa They interrogate the extent to which religious beliefs and practices either promote or impede women s SRHR The contributors also proffer several ways in which addressing the themes of health for all and equality for all women and girls can make a meaningful contribution towards the fulfillment of the goals set for Agenda 2030 Gendered Spaces, Religion and Migration in Zimbabwe Ezra Chitando,Sophia Chirongoma,Molly Manyonganise,2022-10-12 This book explores the intersections of gender religion and migration within the context of post independent Zimbabwe with a specific focus on how gender disparities impact economic development By demonstrating how these interconnections impact women s and girls lived realities the book addresses the need for gender equity gender inclusion and gender mainstreaming in both religious and societal institutions This book assesses the gender and migration nexus in Zimbabwe and examines the impact of religious cultural ideologies on the status of women In doing so it assesses the transition of Zimbabwean women across spaces and provides insights into the practical strategies that can be utilised to improve their status both at home and on the move Furthermore chapters show how space continues to be genderised in ways that perpetuate structural inequality to challenge the exclusion of women from key social processes Contributing to ongoing scholarly debates on gender in Africa this book will be of interest to academics and students of Gender Studies Women s Studies African Studies Development Studies as well as advocates of human rights and gender activists The Five-Factor Model of Personality Across Cultures Robert R.

McCrae, Juri Allik, 2012-12-06 ROBERT R MCCRAE it is simply personality research conducted in different countries The implicit assumption behind this practice is that personality processes are universal and where they are studied is thus of no consequence An insensitivity to cultural context once imputed mostly to Americans now appears to characterize the field worldwide Fortunately recent years have also seen a rise of interest in studies of personality and culture Church 2001 Church Lee McCauley McCrae 2000 What do these new studies show Are personality processes indeed universal or are there significant variations across cultures that necessitate a more nuanced approach to research There is as yet no definitive answer to that question In some respects human personality does seem to transcend the boundaries of language and culture in other respects it is profoundly influenced by social and historical forces Sorting these issues out must be a priority for our field if we are to understand the current personality literature

Zimbabwe National Bibliography, 1986 Regime and Education in Zimbabwe Bekithemba Dube, Albert Mufanechiya, 2024-06-10 This collection focuses on the post independence educational development in Zimbabwe It shows how the ZANU PF regime has presided over the demise of education and covers a wide range of topics such as violence against teachers poor salaries student activism minority languages and curriculum innovations This volume argues that the regime has used education as a tool for repression Curriculum innovations introduced and implemented in Zimbabwe have little to do with improving the performance of the learners and more to do with stopping teachers from pushing the regime change agenda Consequently this has resulted in a nation in crisis marked with high turnover poor economy and mass exodus of teachers and learners The contributors to this volume make various suggestions which could recenter education towards addressing the experiences of the learners as opposed to being used as a tool to push repression and thwart democracy

Cultures of Change in Contemporary Zimbabwe Oliver Nyambi, Tendai Mangena, Gibson Ncube, 2021-11-04 This book investigates how culture reflects change in Zimbabwe focusing predominantly on Mnangagwa's 2017 coup but also uncovering deeper roots for how renewal and transition are conceived in the country Since Emmerson Mnangagwa ousted Robert Mugabe in 2017 he has been keen to define his Second Republic or New Dispensation with a rhetoric of change and a rejection of past political and economic cultures This multi and interdisciplinary volume looks to the social media language discourse theatre images political speeches and literary fiction and non fiction to see how they have reflected on this time of unprecedented upheaval The book argues that themes of self renewal stretch right back to the formative years of the ZANU PF and that despite the longevity of Mugabe's tenure the latest transition can be seen as part of a complex and protracted layering of postcolonial social economic and political changes Providing an innovative investigation of how political change in Zimbabwe is reflected on in cultural texts and products this book will be of interest to researchers across African history literature politics culture and post colonial studies

Cultures, Chess & Art Ned Munger, 1996 Religion and COVID-19 Vaccination in Zimbabwe Tenson Muyambo, Fortune Sibanda, Ezra Chitando, 2023-10-17 This book analyses the role of religion during the COVID 19 pandemic and vaccination rollout in Zimbabwe Zimbabwe was listed by the World Health Organization WHO as one of thirteen African countries to have fully vaccinated more than 10% of its population against COVID 19 by the end of September 2021 but the country fell far short of the government's own target for achieving 60% inoculation by December 2020 This book analyses whether religion played a role in explaining why the government's pro vaccine stance did not translate into high vaccination rates Drawing upon various religions including African indigenous religions Christianity and Islam the book considers how faith actors demonstrated vaccine acceptance resistance or hesitancy Zimbabwe offers a particularly interesting and varied case for analysis and the original research on display here will be an important contribution to wider debates on religion and COVID 19 This book will be useful to academics researchers and students studying religious studies sociology health and well being religion and development

Performative Inter-Actions in African Theatre 2 Kene Igweonu, Osita Okagbue, 2014-04-11 This book is part of a three volume book set published under the general title of Performative Inter Actions in African Theatre Each of the three books in the set has a unique subtitle that works to better focus its content and differentiates it from the other two volumes The contributors' backgrounds and global spread adequately reflect the international focus of the three books that make up the collection The contributions in their various ways demonstrate the many advances and ingenious solutions adopted by African theatre practitioners in tackling some of the challenges arising from the adverse colonial experience as well as the one-sided advance of globalisation The contributions attest to the thriving nature of African theatre and performance which in the face of these challenges has managed to retain its distinctiveness while at the same time acknowledging contesting and appropriating influences from elsewhere into an aesthetic that is identifiably African Consequently the three books are presented as a comprehensive exploration of the current state of African theatre and performance both on the continent and diaspora Performative Inter Actions in African Theatre 2 Innovation Creativity and Social Change contains essays that address performativity as a process particularly in the context of theatre's engagement with contemporary realities with the hope of instigating social change The innovativeness of the examples explored within the book points to the ingenuity and adaptive capacity of African theatre in ways that engage indigenous forms in the service of contemporary realities Contributions in Innovation Creativity and Social Change explore forms such as Theatre for Development community and applied theatre and indigenous juridical performances as well as the work of contemporary dramatists and performers who set out to instigate change in society Teacher in Zimbabwe, 2014

Vowel Epenthesis in Loanword Adaptation Christian Uffmann, 2012-02-14 While it is commonly assumed that languages epenthesize context-free default vowels this book shows that in loanword adaptation several strategies are found which interact intricately Large loanword corpora in Shona Sranan Samoan and Kinyarwanda are analyzed statistically and the patterns are modeled in a version of Optimality Theory which introduces constraints on autosegmental representations The focus of this book is on English loans in Shona providing an in-depth empirical and formal analysis of epenthesis in this language The analysis of additional languages allows for solid typological generalizations In addition a diachronic study of epenthesis in Sranan provides insight into how insertion patterns develop historically In all languages analyzed default epenthesis exists alongside vowel harmony and spreading from adjacent consonants While different languages prefer different strategies these strategies are subject to the same set of constraints however In spreading feature markedness plays an important role alongside sonority We suggest universal markedness scales which combine with constraints on autosegmental configurations to model the patterns found in individual languages and at the same time to constrain the range of possible crosslinguistic variation

Mfecane Aftermath Carolyn Hamilton, Thomas Dowson, Elizabeth Eldredge, Norman Etherington, Jan-Bart Gewald, Simon Hall, Guy Hartley, Margaret Kinsman, Andrew Manson, John Omer-Cooper, Neil Parsons, Jeff Peires, Christopher Saunders, Alan Webster, John Wright, Dan Wylie, 1995-01-01 The idea that the period of social turbulence in the nineteenth century was a consequence of the emergence of the powerful Zulu kingdom under Shaka has been written about extensively as a central episode of southern African history Considerable dynamic debate has focused on the idea that this period the mfecane left much of the interior depopulated thereby justifying white occupation One view is that the time of troubles owed more to the Delagoa Bay Slave trade and the demands of the labour hungry Cape colonists than to Shaka's empire building But is there sufficient evidence to support the argument The Mfecane Aftermath investigates the very nature of historical debate and examines the uncertain foundations of much of the previous historiography

Managing Death: International Perspectives Gerry R. Cox, Neil Thompson, 2022-09-23 There is a huge collection of literature relating to death grief and bereavement but one aspect that has received relatively little attention is that of death management practices by which we mean the various ways of managing the circumstances of the death ritually acknowledging it and sensitively handling the disposal of the body and so on While ways of disposing of the dead and grief practices have been thought of as based upon individual responses grief and bereavement practices can be understood not only by looking at psychological and medical frameworks but also by examining people as part of a complex structure of social arrangements institutions structures and patterns By examining the social and institutional structures of various groups around the world we provide an international framework for a better understanding of the study of dying death and bereavement This book highlights the significance of these matters in an international context reflecting common themes and important differences It will highlight common themes across diverse cultures and national settings while also drawing attention to significant differences If professionals working in the field of death grief and bereavement are not aware of such differences their practice can be insensitive discriminatory and therefore ineffective if not actually counterproductive As such the book provides an invaluable resource for a wide variety of professionals and students including medicine and health care social work counselling and psychotherapy chaplaincy and pastoral work and of course those involved in the funeral industry In addition students of sociology psychology and anthropology will find much of interest here in terms of appreciating the diversity of ways in which funerals and other death management practices are managed and integrated into social life

Méthod(e)s Jean-Bernard Ouédraogo, 2021-08-09 The bilingual French English journal Méthod(e)s founded in 2015 is an African initiative with the objective to enlarge the methodological debates on the Global South The desire for a strong understanding of methodology is to situate it above academic trends thereby placing it in line with a universal history of the sciences Just as calling dominant paradigms into question leaves room for creative opportunities so does the comparison of theoretical approaches and technical models of data collection Questions related to methods are not purely technical or merely philosophical reflections The examination of the method used in scientific investigations necessarily leads us to question the validity and consequences of research results From this point of view the journal Méthod(e)s is not a forum for simple discussions on the mechanics of research but a tool to question social interests influencing academic research and giving it a political function It is also intended to lead to a more critical look at the creation of theories dealing with the status of individuals and societies in Africa and the Global South Méthod(e)s aims to bring into question connect and compare the theoretical technical and political foundations of the social sciences as applied to human societies Each contribution is followed by a summary in the respectively other language In order to ensure a broad intellectual reach the editors reserve the right to include articles written in other languages All the abstracts of the papers are also available in Arabic Chinese and Spanish

Reading Raps Rita Soltan, 2005-12-30 Book clubs are sprouting up all over and so are book club guides but not all book club guides are equal Many focus on a specific type of book club or they take a generic approach of one size fits all and most do not take into account the special needs of librarians and educators working with young readers This guide has it all and it will help you ensure that your book club meetings are both fun and educational Focusing on children in grades 3 8 and their families the book offers 100 ready made book club instructions for popular children's and YA titles from newer releases such as Theresa Nelson's Ruby Electric and Blue Balliett's Chasing Vermeer to perennial favorites and award winning classics such as Johanna Hurwitz's Much Ado about Aldo and Gary Soto's Baseball in April and Other Stories Along with thought provoking discussion questions you'll find all the background information you need to conduct lively book discussions with a variety of readers plot summary themes and

The Political Legacy of Colonialism in Zimbabwe Everisto Benyera, 2024-11-18 This book investigates the political legacy of colonialism in contemporary African institutions Using the case study of electoral and justice institutions in post colonial Zimbabwe the book explores how those in post colonial states relate to and with institutions initially designed to oppress them and remain structurally and systematically colonial The book argues that the colonial era colonised the land knowledge and minds of Africans resulting in injustice and epistemicides The book demonstrates how the critical institutions of elections and justice have been rendered anti black and toxic The book calls for Africa to invest in epistemic independence unencumbered by Western political modernity and then deploy that independence to build reconstituted institutions structures and systems that serve the interests of Africans This book will be an important read for African policymakers and researchers working on African politics governance and international relations

Theatre from Rhodesia to Zimbabwe Samuel Ravengai, Owen Seda, 2021-07-06 The voices that are represented in this collection come from various parts of the world and express the views of practitioners and scholars who have all had first hand experience working in Zimbabwean theatre from the last days of Rhodesia to Zimbabwe The collection views the long continuum of developments in local theatre history as a case of the intrusive hegemonies that came with colonial Rhodesia as a conquest society and localised identities in the form of the persistence of indigenous and syncretic popular forms With time all these came together to constitute the makings of a contested post colony in contemporary theatre practice in Zimbabwe The primary interest of scholars who are represented here is located at the intersection of political cultural and performative discourses and the flow of Zimbabwean history The focus moreover is not only on the history of performance cultures in postcolonial Zimbabwe it extends its critical gaze to include the history of political ideas that gave rise to cultural contestation in the field of theatre and performance

Zimbabwe's Lost Decade Lloyd Sachikonye, 2012-04-24 Zimbabwe occupies a special place in African politics and international relations and has been the subject of intense debates over the years At independence in 1980 the country was better endowed than most in Africa and seemed poised for economic development and political pluralism The population was relatively well educated the industrial and agricultural bases were strong and levels of infrastructure were impressive However in less than two decades Zimbabwe

was mired in a deep political and economic crisis Towards the end of its third decade of independence the economy had collapsed and the country had been transformed into a repressive state How can we make sense of this decline How can we explain the lost decade that followed Can the explanation be reduced to the authoritarian leadership of Robert Mugabe and role of ZANU PF Or was something defective about in the institutions through which the state has exercised its authority Or was it the result of imperialism the West and sanctions Zimbabwe's Lost Decade draws on Lloyd Sachikonye's analyses of political developments over the past 25 years It offers a critique of leadership systems of governance and economic strategies and argues for democratic values and practices and more broad based participation in the development process
