Bilingual Language Development: The Role of Dominance Cornelia Hamann, Esther

Rinke, Dobrinka Genevskaja-Hanke, 2019-09-20 It has long been established that bilingual speakers are rarely balanced in their languages so that one language is dominant The contributions to the Research Topic Bilingual Language Development The Role of Dominance focus on the potential effects of language dominance on the competence and processing of bilinguals covering a large variety of language combinations and domains Important aspects of such work are the interplay of L1 maintenance attrition and possible L2 dominance the direction of cross linguistic influence CLI or code mixing as well as the effects of bilingualism on cognitive development each addressed in several contributions However such research presupposes a definition of dominance which is far from being settled This gives rise to considerable differences in the operationalization of the concept across studies The studies in this Research Topic present a multifaceted picture of the role of language dominance for L1 maintenance attrition L2 development and CLI Though a unified story cannot emerge for such a complex subject interesting new venues are explored including the impact of dominance shift during L1 re exposure comparisons of different types of bilingual groups or operationalization of dominance through experiential measures The variety of approaches and results is in part owed to the many language combinations studied and the fact that bilingual children adults and atypical speakers are investigated This diversity constitutes the interest of this Research Topic

Exploring the US Language Flagship Program Dianna Murphy, Karen Evans-Romaine, 2016-11-07 A number of reports in the US have highlighted the country's need for improved second language skills for both national security and economic competitiveness The Language Flagship program launched in 2002 aims to raise expectations regarding language proficiency levels at the post secondary level and to address structural gaps in the curricula of many L2 programs This federally funded program provides opportunities for US undergraduate students in any specialization to reach a professional level of competence in a targeted second language by graduation This volume highlights innovative practices that enable students to achieve this goal even those with no exposure to the second language prior to university This book explores the rationale and history of the federal program and showcases models and strategies of existing Flagship programs

Teaching in Online, Distance, and Non-Traditional Contexts Cary Roseth, Penny Thompson, 2025-05-30 Building on the foundational principles of educational psychology this book offers a deep dive into the specific challenges and opportunities presented by online education it presents case studies and research backed strategies to help educators create engaging effective and inclusive online courses

Foreign Language Anxiety and the Advanced Language Learner Zsuzsa Tóth, 2010-08-11 Does anxiety about learning and using a foreign language decline as learners become more competent in the target language or is anxiety also relevant at higher levels of proficiency This is the question Foreign Language Anxiety and the Advanced Language Learner sets out to explore The aim of the book is to give readers an insight into what role anxiety plays in the language learning and communication processes of advanced language learners Specifically the study examines how advanced EFL learners foreign language anxiety FLA can be characterized how anxiety relates to other individual differences cognitive affective personality and explores the relationship between FLA and various aspects of learners performance and communication experience in the target language The research context is Hungary The findings however are not confined to the Hungarian EFL setting In addition to making a contribution to the clarification of some unresolved issues in language anxiety research including the role of proficiency in the development of anxiety the relationship between anxiety and other learner variables and the much debated question of whether or not anxiety accounts for differential success in L2 learning this study has important implications for language teachers as well Resources in Education ,1992-05 A Correlational Analysis of Proficiency in Typing Luton Ackerson,1926 Second Language
