Troubling Masculinities Terror Gender and Monstrous Others in American Film Post 9 11 is the first multigenre study of representations of masculinity following the emergence of violent terror as a plot element in American cinema after September 11 2001 Across a broad range of subgenres including disaster melodrama monster movies postapocalyptic science fiction discovered footage and home invasion horror action thrillers and frontier westerns author Glen Donnar examines the impact of terror Others from Arab terrorists to giant monsters especially in relation to cinematic representations in earlier periods of national turmoil Donnar demonstrates that the reassertion of masculinity and American national identity in post 9 11 cinema repeatedly unravels across genres Taking up critical arguments about Hollywood's attempts to resolve male crisis through Orientalizing figures of terror he shows how this failure reflects an inability to effectively extinguish the threat or frightening difference of terror The heroes in these movies are unable to heal themselves or restore order often becoming as destructive as the threats they are supposed to be fighting Donnar concludes that interrelated anxieties about masculinity and nationhood continue to affect contemporary American cinema and politics By showing how persistent these cultural fears are the volume offers an important counternarrative to this supposedly unprecedented moment in American history Indefinite Visions Beugnet Martine Beugnet,2017-07-07

Moving image culture seems to privilege the instantly identifiable the recognizable face the well timed stunt the perfectly synchronized line of dialogue Yet perfect in focus visibility does not come naturally to the moving image and if there is one visual effect the eye of the camera can record better than the human eye it is blur Looking beyond popular media to works of experimental cinema and video art this groundbreaking collection addresses the aesthetics and politics of moving images in states of decay distortion indistinctness and fragmentation A range of international scholars examines what is at stake in these images sometimes radical foregrounding of materiality and mediation or of evanescence and spectrality as well as their challenging of the dominant position accorded to legible images How have artists and filmmakers rendered the indefinite image and what questions does it pose With a range of approaches from aesthetics to phenomenology to production studies the authors in this volume investigate techniques themes and concepts that emerge from this wilful excavation of the moving image's material base The Business of Creativity Brian Moeran,2016-06-16

How does a group of people brought together because of their diverse skills and professional knowledge set out to be creative How are ongoing tensions between beauty fame and money resolved In The Business of Creativity Brian Moeran a leading scholar and writer on the creative industries takes the sacred relic of creativity out of the crypt and airs it in the ethnographic alley In contrast to the persistent image of creativity as the spontaneous inspiration of a gifted individual Moeran shows how creativity emerges from collaborative engagements

among people genres institutions materials and technologies He alternates thick description of work in fashion advertising and ceramic art with theoretical innovations that shed new light on the aesthetic symbolic and economic dimensions of creativity and the production of worth
