Haigh, Marta Marcos, Sönke Dangendorf, Francisco Calafat, 2017-04-27 In June 2015 we held a workshop on the beautiful island of Mallorca, Spain, with a focus on sea level variability and change. Over 120 sea level experts from around the world attended this workshop from a range of different disciplines. The main aims of the workshop were to: 1. Evaluate the current state of knowledge of sea level science. 2. Identify gaps and unresolved questions in any aspect of sea level science. 3. Design future research to address these issues. All aspects of sea level changes were covered from global to regional observations and modelling processes driving mean sea level changes and extremes from the geological scale to the instrumental era and future projections and including impacts on the coastal zones. This E-Book presents papers that came out of that workshop. Overall, these papers illustrate the multi-disciplinary nature of sea level research, cross-cutting many fields of research including oceanography, meteorology, geology, coastal morphodynamics, engineering and the social economic aspects. Collectively, these articles represent an interesting range of perspectives and original studies that contribute to understanding the dynamic nature of sea level and its impacts across a wide range of time and space scales. Managing Online Risk highlights security and risk management best practices that address concerns such as data collection and storage liability, recruitment, employee communications, compliance violations, security of devices in contexts like mobile apps and cloud computing, and more. Additionally, this book offers a companion website that was developed in parallel with the book and includes the latest updates and resources for topics covered in the book. Explores the risks associated with online and digital activity and covers the latest technologies such as social media and mobile devices. Includes interviews with risk management experts and company executives, case studies, checklists, and policy samples. A website with related content and updates, including video, is also available.

An Assessment of ARPA-E National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine, Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences, Board on Energy and Environmental Systems, Policy and Global Affairs, Board on Science, Technology, and Economic Policy, Committee on Evaluation of the Advanced Research Projects Agency-Energy (ARPA-E), 2017-07-28. In 2005, the National Research Council report Rising Above the Gathering Storm recommended a new way for the federal government to spur technological breakthroughs in the energy sector. It recommended the creation of a new agency, the Advanced Research Projects Agency-Energy or ARPA-E, as an adaptation of the Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency (DARPA) model, widely considered a successful experiment that has funded out of the box transformative research and engineering that made possible the Internet, GPS, and stealth aircraft. This new agency was envisioned as a means of tackling the nation's energy challenges in a way that could translate basic research into technological breakthroughs while also addressing economic, environmental, and security issues. Congress authorized ARPA-E in the 2007 America COMPETES Act and requested an early assessment following 6 years of operation to examine the agency's progress toward achieving its statutory mission and goals. This report documents the results of that assessment. It includes both an operational assessment of the agency's funding programs and a technical assessment of its awards to the extent possible.
