What's to Eat? Nathalie Cooke, 2009-09-01 How we as Canadians procure, produce, cook, consume, and think about food creates our cuisine, and our nation of immigrant traditions has produced a distinctive and evolving repertoire that is neither hodgepodge nor smorgasbord. Contributors who come from the diverse worlds of universities, museums, the media, and gastronomy look at Canada's distinctive foodways from the shared perspective of the current moment. Individual chapters explore food items and choices from those made by Canada's First Nations and early settlers to those made today. Other contributions describe the ways in which foods enjoyed by early Canadians have found their way back onto Canadian tables in the twentieth and twenty-first centuries. Authors emphasize the expressive potential of food practices, and food texts, cookbooks are more than books to be read and used in the kitchen; they are also documents that convey valuable social and historical information. The Boston Cooking School Magazine of Culinary Science and Domestic Economics Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, 1915 Multicultural Projects Index Mary Anne Pilger, 1998 An index to multicultural learning projects for kindergarten through eighth-grade classrooms which appear in over 1,700 books, including handicrafts, foods, games, and activities arranged alphabetically by subject, with cross-references and complete bibliographic information.
