

Sample APA Papers: Literature Review

This section offers a sample literature review, written by an undergraduate psychology student at Purdue University. Since it's a real paper written by a real student, we haven't corrected the student's errors, but have instead included comments that point them out. If you have a comment you'd like to add to the paper, send us an e-mail at link@owl.english.purdue.edu and we'd be glad to add it.

We've marked up the paper with sample comments from various psychology teachers that comment on the paper's format, content, and use of APA style.

The diagram illustrates the format of an APA paper with the following components and annotations:

- Heading (on all pages): running head plus page number (Annotation pointing to the running head and page number)
- Adolescent Depression 1 (Page number and title, right justified)
- Running Head: ADOLESCENT DEPRESSION (Running head, left justified)
- Running head (a shortened version of the title) is defined on the title page and used in the heading of your paper. (Annotation pointing to the running head)
- Adolescent Depression and Attachment (Title of the paper, centered)
- Isa G. Student (Author's name(s), centered)
- Purdue University (Institutional affiliation (your college, university, or institution), centered)
- Title of the paper (Annotation pointing to the title)
- Author's name(s) (Annotation pointing to the author's name)
- Institutional affiliation (your college, university, or institution). (Annotation pointing to the institutional affiliation)
