

QUESTION 2

- 2.1 The graph of molecular size versus the boiling point is given below.
The letters A, B and C represent the compounds  $\text{CH}_4$ ,  $\text{C}_2\text{H}_6$  and  $\text{C}_3\text{H}_8$  respectively.

- 2.1.1 Define the term boiling point. (2)
- 2.1.2. Describe the trend in the boiling points of the compounds as shown by the graph. (2)
- 2.1.3. Explain the answer to QUESTION 2.1.2 by referring to MOLECULAR SIZE, TYPE and STRENGTH of INTERMOLECULAR FORCES. (3)
- 2.1.4 Which ONE of the compounds (A, B or C) has the HIGHEST vapour pressure? Explain the answer by referring to the data on the graph. (2)

- 2.2 Consider the two molecules in the table below.

| NAME OF SUBSTANCE | FORMULA       | MOLACULAR MASS (g) | BOILING POINT ( $^{\circ}\text{C}$ ) |
| Ammonia           | $\text{NH}_3$ | 17                 | - 33                                 |

Meeting the Challenges to Measurement in an Era of Accountability Henry Braun,2016-01-29 Under pressure and support from the federal government states have increasingly turned to indicators based on student test scores to evaluate teachers and schools as well as students themselves The focus thus far has been on test scores in those subject areas where there is a sequence of consecutive tests such as in mathematics or English language arts with a focus on grades 4-8. Teachers in these subject areas however constitute less than thirty percent of the teacher workforce in a district. Comparatively little has been written about the measurement of achievement in the other grades and subjects. This volume seeks to remedy this imbalance by focusing on the assessment of student achievement in a broad range of grade levels and subject areas with particular attention to their use in the evaluation of teachers and schools in all. It addresses traditional end of course tests as well as alternative measures such as portfolios, exhibitions and student learning objectives. In each case, issues related to design and development, psychometric considerations and validity challenges are covered from both a generic and a content specific perspective. The NCME Applications of Educational Measurement and Assessment series includes edited volumes designed to inform research based applications of educational measurement and assessment. Edited by leading experts, these books are comprehensive and practical resources on the latest developments in the field. The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license.

Global Perspective on Issues and Trends in Educational Translanguaging Bautista, Jude Cañero, Kim, Jean, 2025-05-29. The growing superdiversity around the world now appears to be the norm. In traditional English speaking inner circle nations it is becoming increasingly rare to find classrooms with students who come from monocultural and monolingual backgrounds. However, teaching practices remain based on Anglocentric standards and perspectives even when most of the English speakers in the world are no longer just the monolingual speakers of the language. Research in bilingualism and multilingualism reverberate the potential of translanguaging as a pedagogical practice. This is to leverage all the linguistic, cultural, and semiotic resources of learners so that they can actively engage in the language literacy and content area learning processes in the classroom. However, even though it has gained ground in theory and research, it has not been upheld in instructional practice, especially in the Anglophone nations. While some regions view translanguaging as a pathway to educational justice, others face barriers such as limited resources, administrative constraints, or lack of teacher training. Despite its promise, concerns remain around the selective use of languages and the risk of reinforcing existing linguistic hierarchies. Global Perspective on Issues and Trends in Educational Translanguaging explores translanguaging pedagogies from both monolingual English-speaking contexts and multilingual and multicultural contexts. It examines a monolingual, multilingual pairing of theoretical research and practical perspectives from around the world, assessing how translanguaging pedagogies are practiced and researched worldwide. This book covers topics such as indigenous studies, migrant learners, and pedagogy and is a useful resource for educators, language experts, academicians, researchers, and scientists. 22

Ramnarain, 2020-06-01. School Science Practical Work in Africa presents the scope of research and practice of science practical work in African schools. It brings together prominent science educators and researchers from Africa to share their experience and findings on pedagogical innovations and research-informed practices on school science practical work. The book highlights trends and patterns in the enactment and role of practical work across African countries. Practical work is regarded as intrinsic to science teaching and learning, and the form of practical work that is strongly advocated is inquiry-based learning, which signals a definite paradigm shift from the traditional teacher-dominated to a learner-centered approach. The book provides empirical research on approaches to practical work, contextual factors in the enactment of practical work, and professional development in teaching practical work. This book will be of great interest to academics, researchers, and
