Christology and Atonement Guus H. Labooy, 2024-02-15 This scotistic study in analytical theology presupposes Conciliar Christology and aims at a more profound understanding of two vital and connected Christian doctrines Christology and atonement The beating heart of the first part is Duns Scotus's compelling analysis of the incarnation his uniquely successful analysis of the hypostatic union Following Marilyn McCord Adams Guus H Labooy argues that the problem of Christological predication can be solved by probing the metaphysical backbone of qua propositions expressions like as regards his Godhead and as regards his manhood Labooy dedicates the second part of the book to the analysis of atonement especially to its most controversial aspect penal substitution The Messiah dying for our sins is perhaps the storm centre of the confrontation between Christian faith and the secular intellectual mindset Labooy argues on exegetical grounds that all the current models of atonement are complementary None of them should be discarded and neither should penal substitution The account of penal substitution or vicarious penance he defends is shaped with the decisive aid of Scotus's analytical tools

Simulating Jesus George Aichele, 2015-01-30 Can the different pictures of Jesus in the New Testament be reconciled Or are they simply simulations the products of a virtual Gospel Simulating Jesus argues that the gospels do not represent four versions of one Jesus story but rather four distinct narrative simulacra each of which is named Jesus The book explores the theory and evidence justifying this claim and discusses its practical and theological consequences The simulations of Jesus in each of the gospels are analysed and placed alongside Jesus simulacra elsewhere in the Bible and contemporary popular culture Simulating Jesus offers a radical understanding of Scripture that will be of interest to students and scholars of biblical studies

Canones: The Art of Harmony Alessandro Bausi, Bruno Reudenbach, Hanna Wimmer, 2020-11-23 The so called Canon Tables of the Christian Gospels are an absolutely remarkable feature of the early late antique and medieval Christian manuscript cultures of East and West the invention of which is commonly attributed to Eusebius and dated to first decades of the fourth century AD Intended to host a technical device for structuring organizing and navigating the Four Gospels united in a single codex and in doing so building upon and bringing to completion previous endeavours the Canon Tables were apparently from the beginning a highly complex combination of text numbers and images that became an integral and fixed part of all the manuscripts containing the Four Gospels as Sacred Scripture of the Christians and can be seen as exemplary for the formation development and spreading of a specific Christian manuscript culture across East and West AD 300 and 800 In the footsteps of Carl Nordenfalk's masterly publication of 1938 and few following contributions this book offers an updated overview on the topic of Canon Tables in a comparative perspective and with a precise look at their context of origin their visual appearance their meaning function and their usage in different times domains and cultures
