THESE are the 100 top-selling books in the paperback format in the United States for the week ending 12 September 1991. The list is compiled by Booklist magazine, which is published by the American Library Association. The books are ranked by the number of copies sold in the week.

It is a common observation that the most successful people in the world are those who are able to "sell" their ideas. This is not to say that they are all salesmen, but they are all able to communicate their ideas effectively. This is a skill that can be learned and taught. In this book, the author provides a comprehensive guide to the art of selling. The book is divided into two main parts: the first part covers the basics of selling, and the second part covers advanced techniques. The author provides a wealth of practical advice and examples throughout the book. This is a must-read for anyone who wants to succeed in business.
