

Component 1B Demonstrating Knowledge of Students

- Student Self-Assessments:
 - a. "My Report Card"- This form students reflect on their time at school. They must make statements on things like: paying attention, following directions, making good choices, etc. This form also asks students to write down one thing I made me know about them, future goals, and what they enjoy/admire about school.
 - b. Behavior self-assessment sheet
- Graphs tracking the Student Outcomes:
 - a. Month-long behavior- Students have daily binders that call for them to fill out how many free recess each individual student has had that week. Students track this out over several weeks on the pre-test and post-test on a bar graph so they can look at their growth.
 - b. Classroom Improvement- I have used this chart to track progress to create individual improvement sheets that I fill out at the end of each chapter. For students who have not yet met certain goals and need more help with, I typically take students for an extra day to help them meet those things that they need help on, and we work one-on-one or in small groups.
 - c. Growth graphs for certain skills and concepts.
- Collecting Data/Information about Students:
 - a. Parent questionnaire survey- This is four questions about their students' time and involvement in the classroom for.
 - b. Parent questionnaire card "All About Me"
 - c. notes about individual students completed through observations, activities, and assignments.
 - d. RTI notes on individual students' progress.
 - e. Notes about individual students' progress and habits throughout the year.
 - f. Goals for an individual student in math, and language.
- Student Self-Assessments:
 - a. Learning objective exit slip for lessons.
 - b. Test/Unit post.
 - c. Writing self-assessment.
 - d. Student grading rubric- This rubric was originally created by my students. They determined what was important for this final project. They were filling out these rubrics on their own to reflect on how they did.
 - e. "Show your understanding" quick check in math notebook. Students identify their levels of understanding and certain skills for example.) This guides my instruction and methods.
 - i. Level 0= No need Help me, Level 1= I get the idea, off it but I'm still lost, Level 2= I understand most of it, I have questions for Help from Miss Bragg, Level 3= I understand- I've got this, Level 4= I understand so well that I could teach someone.
- Assessments during the Individual Lessons:
 - a. Links to video recordings done for students who benefit from listening to reading instead of reading to self.
 - b. Educational videos shown with students who need visual supports while learning concepts, allows students to practice these skills while watching.
 - c. Worksheets and scratch worksheets done individually.
 - d. Worksheets made for personalized for each.
- Small Group Groups:
 - a. Math center rotations.
 - b. Language rotations.
- Follow-up Lessons:
 - a. Comparing and contrasting penguin activity after lesson on Emperor Penguins.
- Early Finish Activities:
 - a. Grand Canyon Memory Activity- Students create their own questions.
 - b. Penguins "I-S-3" things you have learned.
 - c. Boggle.

The author discusses findings from a variety of qualitative and quantitative research studies in the light of previous research and in the context of teacher learning theories. Teachers, teacher educators, teacher trainers, supervisory coordinators and administrators will find practical advice while the volume will be a valuable source of research information for researchers in teacher education and EFL teacher education in particular for those who wish to employ mentoring or peer mentoring as an approach to teachers professional development

Video in Teacher Learning Laura Baecher, 2019-06-12 Harness the power of video to promote reflective practice and teacher growth. Video is the only feedback method that allows educators to view their teaching through their own eyes yet many K-12 professionals have yet to reap the benefits of this powerful technology. This practical and comprehensive guide takes advantage of new methods and tools to capture teaching and learning and a broad base of current research to impact teacher thinking and actions. Written for instructional coaches, administrators, supervisors and individual teachers, it includes guidance on how to get started and how to engage in nonjudgmental and descriptive analysis, scaffolding to counter anxiety and resistance and to cultivate a growth mindset. Chapters on specific contexts including developmental, evaluative and problems of practice, guidance for observation in specific grade bands and for specific student populations, templates and links to videos for video analysis tasks, step-by-step process outlines, real world vignettes and application questions. Drawing on broad evidence of the impact of video on teaching, this is the guide for maximizing this powerful form of professional learning.
