Helmut Becker, 2006-02-10 This book was born from curiosity To begin with it was the curiosity of an economist who studied in the 60 s in an environment which has subsequently developed from national into global economics Who has to recognize that politicians scholars and large segments of society oblivious to supranational authorities and economic globalization forces continue to labour under the notion that they are still fully autonomous and sovereign when shaping national economic policy And pretend as though their own national state were still the master in its own house that despite unbridled market economics could continue to dictate to the economy and companies how to live and in which rooms All that has become fiction The laws of globalization diminish the manoeuvring space for shaping national economic policy Even if many folks today don't want to hear it The issue is no longer achieving what is socially politically desirable for the own society but rather the optimal adaptation of society and social benefits to the politically practicable The Car Design Yearbook Stephen Newbury, 2002 Focus On: 100 Most Popular Station Wagons Wikipedia contributors, Business Week, 2005 Consuming mobility Jorrit O. Nijhuis, 2023-09-04 The current fossil fuel based system of mobility is associated with a wide range of environmental and social problems There is a growing body of literature on system innovations and transitions which has as a common understanding that long term transformative change is necessary to deal with these complex problems However knowledge on the crucial role of citizen consumers in sustainable mobility transitions is still underdeveloped By incorporating the viewpoint of consumption patterns and everyday life routines this book provides new knowledge on the role of citizen consumers in sustainable mobility transitions Theoretically a practice based approach is developed as a novel framework to analyse understand and influence transition processes to sustainable mobility at the level of everyday life The focus in each of the three cases studies is on situated interactions between consumers and producers Amongst these is an analysis of the role environmental information and subsidies in new car purchasing Also various examples in which an attempt was made to orchestrate a modal shift in commuting practices are examined Each of the empirical case studies shows the important role of contextual factors in understanding and influencing mobility behaviour of citizen consumers In addition this book helps to understand how and why innovation in mobility practices takes place or not
