LC-MS/MS in the Mycotoxins Studies Laura Gámiz-Gracia, Ana M. García-Campaña, Natalia

Arroyo-Manzanares, 2020-06-17 Mycotoxins are secondary metabolites produced by the fungi of different species mainly Aspergillus Fusarium and Penicillium with toxic effects for humans and animals These mycotoxins can contaminate food and feed The European Union EU has established the maximum permitted or recommended levels for well known mycotoxins in different foodstuffs However there are other mycotoxins that are not included in the regulations the emerging mycotoxins whose toxicity is still not clear and the modified or masked mycotoxins produced as a consequence of a detoxification strategy of the host plant of the fungus or during food processing These mycotoxins could pose a risk and should also be taken into account In order to assure consumers health analytical methods for the accurate determination of mycotoxins in different food matrices and feeds are required In this sense liquid chromatography tandem mass spectrometry LC MS MS is a powerful tool for their unique identification and quantification Moreover the use of high resolution mass spectrometry HRMS allows one to identify novel mycotoxins and targeted untargeted approaches for study This Special Issue compiles recent applications of LC MS MS in mycotoxin studies as well as the development and validation of new analytical methods for their identification and quantification in different food matrices and feed occurrence studies and the biomonitoring of mycotoxins and their metabolites in biological fluids

The Guide to COIL Virtual Exchange Jon Rubin, Sarah

Guth, 2023-07-03 This is the authoritative guide to implementing COIL Virtual Exchange conceived and co edited by one of the originators of this innovative approach to internationalization Jon Rubin COIL the acronym for Collaborative Online International Learning is a central modality of what has come to be known as virtual exchange Since its first iteration in 2002 it has gradually established itself as a mature pedagogy that is being increasingly implemented across the world and is validated by a growing body of research COIL Virtual Exchange at its most essential is a bi lateral online exchange involving the integration of existing courses across two or sometimes more institutions that are geographically and or culturally distinct To launch a COIL VE course the instructor of a class at a higher education institution in one location links online with a professor and his or her class in another region or country Together their students engage and develop joint projects usually over a continuous five to eight week period Compared to the limited number of students worldwide who can engage in study abroad COIL VE potentially opens up more equitable and inclusive participation in international education and intercultural experiences to all students involves them in rigorous disciplinary and interdisciplinary studies and promotes close and constructive engagement with students with different cultural perspectives While many COIL courses are launched by individual instructors based on their research connections and online outreach they are being increasingly supported and led by dedicated COIL Coordinators who facilitate virtual exchanges and provide professional development This comprehensive guide covers COIL VE pedagogy provides examples of what takes place in the COIL classroom and explores what instructors and staff need to know to facilitate and support a variety of COIL courses across the curriculum It addresses how institutional stakeholders especially those in leadership positions can develop and embed a successful COIL initiative at their institution It offers varied perspectives of COIL viewed from different institutional and cultural vantage points from research universities community and technical colleges and university systems and describes how COIL VE is developing in five different world regions presenting eleven case studies The book concludes with a guide to thirteen global organizations that support COIL and other forms of VE Additionally the book provides links to the COIL Connect for Virtual Exchange website <https://coilconnect.org> which includes an updated directory of organizations an expanding database of faculty and institutions participating in COIL and looking for partners course templates survey data and case studies This book offers faculty and administrators across the world whether formally involved in international education in service learning and community engagement or wanting to incorporate a cross cultural perspective in their disciplinary courses theoretical foundations guidance on effective collaboration and the strategic and pedagogical considerations to develop robust COIL VE courses and programs

Psychology of Career Adaptability, Employability and Resilience Kobus Maree, 2017-12-05 This book examines how the career counselling profession should respond to the changes in the world of work that have resulted from the increasing need to communicate faster and disseminate information more efficiently It emphasizes the twin aims of enhancing a persons career adaptability and helping them to become more employable rather than linearly trying to find a job and remaining in one organisation for their entire career lives The book shows that to achieve these aims people need to acquire career resilience especially since the world of work no longer provides workers with work holding environments for the duration of their career lives It takes into account historical analyses which show that whenever major technological change has occurred and widespread job losses have ensued people have managed to use the new technology to create new employment opportunities Readers from career psychology and management research vocational and professional career coaching and students of career psychology will find this book delivers sound updated theory demonstrating how perceived threats in the 21st century can conceivably be turned into opportunities
