November 2013 Geography Paper 1

Peter J. Rimmer

November 2013 Geography Paper 1:

Basic Principles of Topography Blagoja Markoski, 2018-01-18 This book gives a comprehensive overview of all relevant elements in topography and their practical application. It elaborates on the classical representation of terrain on maps such as cartographic projections together with their classification scale and geographical elements. It is richly illustrated with photographs, maps and figures in which the theoretical explanations are clarified. Readers will become acquainted with the physical characteristics of the ground, i.e. tectonic and erosive shapes, the importance and classification of terrain, genetic fluvial, abrasive, glacial, karst and topographic types such as higher mountains, hills, peaks and lower terrain, valleys, fields. In addition, the book discusses cartometry and coordinate systems, orientation in space, geographic, topographic, tactical, including by means of maps, instruments and the night sky, and elaborates new techniques and technologies such as aerial photogrammetric imagery, global navigation satellite systems and LiDAR. The book also includes methods for the practical execution of concrete measurement operations such as determining position and movement on land with maps, compass and azimuth, which makes it especially useful for practitioners and professionals, e.g. for landscape planning, military exercises, mountaineering, nature walks, etc. As such, it offers a valuable guide not only for undergraduate students but also for researchers in the fields of geography, geosciences, geodesy, ecology, forestry and related areas looking for an overview on topography. Uniquely, the book also features an extensive glossary of topographical terms. The War Lawyers Craig Jones, 2020-11-26

Over the last 20 years, the world's most advanced militaries have invited a small number of military legal professionals into the heart of their targeting operations spaces, which had previously been exclusively for generals and commanders. These professionals, trained and hired to give legal advice on an array of military operations, have become known as war lawyers. The War Lawyers examines the laws of war as applied by military lawyers to aerial targeting operations carried out by the US military in Iraq and Afghanistan and the Israel military in Gaza. Drawing on interviews with military lawyers and others, this book explains why some lawyers became integrated in the chain of command, whereby military targets are identified and attacked, whether by manned aircraft, drones and/or ground forces, and with what results. This book shows just how important law and military lawyers have become in the conduct of contemporary warfare and how it is understood. Jones argues that circulations of law and policy between the US and Israel have bolstered targeting practices considered legally questionable, contending that the involvement of war lawyers in targeting operations enables legitimises and sometimes even extends military violence. Globalization, Development and Social Justice Ann El

Khoury, 2015-03-27 Are there existing alternatives to corporate globalization? What are the prospects for and commonalities between communities and movements such as Occupy the World, Social Forum and alternative economies? Globalization, Development and Social Justice advances the proposition that another globalization is not only possible but already exists. It demonstrates that there are multiple pathways towards development with social justice and argues that enabling propositional agency rather than oppositional agency such as resistance is a more effective alternative to neoliberal globalization El Khoury develops a theory of infraglobalization that emphasizes creative constitution not just contestation of global and local processes The book features case studies and examples of diverse economic practice and innovative emergent political forms from the Global South and North These case studies are located in the informal social economy and community development as well as everyday practices from prefigurative politics to community cooperatives and participatory planning This book makes an important contribution to debates about the prospects for and practices of a transformative grassroots globalization and to critical debates about globalization and development strategies It will be of interest to students and scholars of international relations globalization social movement studies political and economic geography sociology anthropology and development studies

Chinese Migrants and Africa's Development Doctor Ben Lampert, Doctor May Tan-Mullins, Daphne Chang, Giles Mohan, 2014-06-12 China's recent stepping up of relations with Africa is one of the most significant developments on the African continent for decades For some it promises an end to Africa's dependent aid relationships as the Chinese bring expertise technology and a stronger business focus But for others it is no more than a new form of imperialism This book is the first to systematically study the motivations relationships and impact of this migration It focuses not just on the Chinese migrants but also on the perceptions of and linkages to their African hosts By studying this everyday interaction we get a much richer picture of whether this is South-South cooperation as political leaders would have us believe or a more complex relationship that can both compromise and encourage African development

The Consuming Geographies of Food Hillary J. Shaw, 2014-04-24 The consumption and distribution of food as well as its production has become a major public policy issue over the past few decades what we eat is no longer merely a private matter but carries significant externalities for wider society Its increasing significance within the public arena implies a dissonance regarding the boundaries of food where do we draw the line between food as private and food as public What are the rights of society to impinge upon individual food consumption and what conflicts will ensue when this boundary is disputed The Consuming Geographies of Food explores these multiple issues of food across different regions of the world from the consumer's perspective It uniquely explicates the factors that lead customers towards certain typologies of consumption and towards certain types of retailing offering a comprehensive review of the obesity problem the phenomenon of food deserts and the issue of exclusion from a healthy diet It then considers the effects of food on the consumer the dynamic relationship between food and people and the issue of food exclusion before concluding with possible futures for food consumption from low technology projects to high technology scenarios Based on original research into food access ethics and consumption in both developed and less developed countries this book will be of interest to students researchers and academics in the fields of geography economics hospitality health marketing nutrition and sociology

Rehearsing the State Fiona McConnell, 2016-03-07 Rehearsing the State presents a comprehensive investigation of the institutions

performances and actors through which the Tibetan Government in Exile is rehearsing statecraft McConnell offers new insights into how communities officially excluded from formal state politics enact hoped for futures and seek legitimacy in the present Offers timely and original insights into exile Tibetan politics based on detailed qualitative research in Tibetan communities in India Advances existing debates in political geography by bringing ideas of stateness and statecraft into dialogue with geographies of temporality Explores the provisional and pedagogical dimensions of state practices adding weight to assertions that states are in a continual situation of emergence Makes a significant contribution to critical state theory

The South China Sea Maritime Dispute Leszek Buszynski, Christopher B. Roberts, 2014-09-25 The South China Sea is a major strategic waterway for trade and oil shipments to Japan Korea as well as southern China It has been the focus of a maritime dispute which has continued now for over six decades with competing claims from China Vietnam the Philippines Indonesia and Brunei Recently China has become more assertive in pressing its claims harassing Vietnamese fishing vessels and seizing reefs in the Philippine claim zone China has insisted that it has indisputable sovereignty over the area and has threatened to enforce its claim All of this is unsettling and draws in the United States which is concerned about freedom of navigation in the area The US has been supporting the Philippines and has been developing security ties with Vietnam as a check upon China This book examines the conflict potential of the current dispute it discusses how the main claimants and the United States view the issue and assesses the prospects for a resolution of the problem

The Chinese Constitution of Central Asia N. Godehardt, 2014-03-21 China's commitments in Central Asia illustrate how regional foreign policy works and how long standing principles of Chinese foreign policy might be revised in the near future China's rise has moved Asia which is why it seems that what we have traditionally regarded as the geographic and political scope of Asia might actually considerably change in the near future Nadine Godehardt gives crucial insights into the Chinese expert discourse on Central Asia analyzing how Chinese experts define Central Asia when they talk and write about policy issues related to China's immediate Western neighbourhood In this context she gives an inside perspective on Chinese voices whose meanings are rarely examined in Chinese International Relations studies

China's Power and Asian Security Mingjiang Li, Kalyan M. Kemburi, 2014-11-27 One of the most significant factors for contemporary international relations is the growth of China's economic military and political power Indeed few analysts would dispute the observation that China's power has strongly influenced the structure of the international system major power strategic relations international security the patterns of trans border economic activities and most importantly the political and security dynamics in Asia in the twenty first century This book maps the growth of China's political economic and military capabilities and its impact on the security order in Asia over the coming decades While updating the emerging power dimensions and prevailing discourse it provides a nuanced analysis of whether the growth of Chinese power is resulting in Beijing becoming more assertive or even aggressive in its behavior and pursuit of national interests It also examines how the key Asian countries perceive and react to the growth of

China's power and how US rebalancing would play out in the context of Beijing's political economic and military power China's Power and Asian Security will be of huge interest to student and scholars of Asian politics Chinese politics security studies and international security and international relations more generally

Smart Development in Smart Communities

Gilberto Antonelli, Giuseppe Cappiello, 2016-09-13 The concept of smart cities has become one of the most significant new lines of thinking to emerge in the social sciences in recent years both from the research and policy angles To date the focus in smart specialization has been on what regions as a whole can do to bring about innovation but it hasn't necessarily addressed the role cities play within the field This book aims to address that gap drawing together a team of leading contributors to illustrate this process with particular focus on cities Smart Development in Smart Communities discusses the cross fertilization between smart specialization and cities in fostering smart development and its interactions with the macro micro and meso economic framework from both a theoretical and applied perspective Specific topics covered by the book include human capital formation and utilization centralized decentralized industrial policies innovation policies collective learning and the role of public utilities in sustaining smart development processes This book tackles some of the most important questions that must be faced when investigating how structural change and innovation processes are shaping local and global economic development It will be of interest to academics and researchers in the area of Development Economics Urban Studies and Public Management

The New Urban Crisis Richard Florida, 2017-04-11

In recent years the young, educated, and affluent have surged back into cities, reversing decades of suburban flight and urban decline. And yet all is not well. Richard Florida argues in The New Urban Crisis. Florida, one of the first scholars to anticipate this back-to-the-city movement in his groundbreaking The Rise of the Creative Class, demonstrates how the same forces that power the growth of the world's superstar cities also generate their vexing challenges: gentrification, unaffordability, segregation, and inequality. Meanwhile, many more cities still stagnate, and middle-class neighborhoods everywhere are disappearing. Our winner-take-all cities are just one manifestation of a profound crisis in today's urbanized knowledge economy. A bracingly original work of research and analysis, The New Urban Crisis offers a compelling diagnosis of our economic ills and a bold prescription for more inclusive cities capable of ensuring growth and prosperity for all.
