

JANUARY ... DOES IT BRING YOU JOY?

- 1 January is the time for renewal on many fronts. It's the time of the year to re-evaluate everything. If something or someone doesn't bring you joy, it's pretty pointless carrying on with it. If we want the best, we must do our best. We must keep our family space safe and secure so that we are thriving as a people and as a nation. 5
- 2 In order to live their best lives, people are spreading themselves thinner and thinner with multiple streams of income. In the process we earn more but live less, we lose our focus of what is important.
- 3 With social media, keeping up with other Instagrammers are having a devastating effect on self-perception. Everything appears to be real perfect, but the fabric of our society is frazzled. Use January to take stock and start navigating new ways of doing things. Instead of multiple streams of sole sessions, travel more, and connect with people and places that bring you joy. 10

Project Risk Governance

Dieter Fink, 2016-04-15 In Project Risk Governance Dieter Fink breaks new ground in two ways Firstly he places project risk management in the context of today's organisations in which objectives are increasingly implemented through projects to better respond to fast changing markets Secondly he applies a governance perspective to examine project risk at the project and corporate levels an approach which is significantly under researched and for which theoretical knowledge and professional practice are at an early stage of maturity Project risk governance falls between corporate governance and project governance and is attracting increasing attention The author argues that there are two reasons for this The first is the projectisation of organisations in particular within organisations conforming to the Project Based Organisation PBO model The second is the prevalence of a strategic approach to managing risk for the purposes of protecting organisational values and creating competitive advantage The book addresses governance strategy value management and building enterprise wide Project Risk Governance PRG capabilities Chapters examine the role of projects in organisations and the need to integrate project and business strategy within the framework of the Project Based Organisation PRG is introduced via its links with corporate and project governance and its scope is covered in chapters that identify relevant processes structures and relationship mechanisms Contextual influences such as the professionalisation of project management are recognised and insights provided to increase readers understanding of uncertainty risk events and probabilities and of the essential requirements of managing risks at project level The final chapter provides a roadmap to the stages and dimensions of a PRG maturity model

The Chief Value Officer Mervyn King, Jill Atkins, 2024-11-01 Integrated Reporting is having a profound impact on corporate thinking and reporting Value is being assessed on the basis of the sources of value creation used by an organisation and not through a financial lens alone In Chief Value Officer Accountants Can Save the Planet Mervyn King a global corporate governance and reporting leader challenges some of the systemic issues preventing organisations from managing in an integrated value creation way The shareholder centric governance model currently favoured by most companies will not result in changes to corporate behaviour that can create value in a sustainable manner The book therefore firmly places the accountant in the position of changemaker the finance professional today should be more of a value officer than a financial officer Consequently the Chief Finance Officer should be known as the Chief Value Officer This book explains this new approach It encapsulates the essential reasons for adopting integrated reporting explains its application to date and proposes the next steps needed to achieve change that will improve business social and environmental sustainability
