The Old English Version of Bede's Ecclesiastical History of the English People: Early Eng. text soc. org. ser., 95-96 Saint Bede (the Venerable), 1890     Bradshaw's illustrated travellers' hand book in [afterw.] to France George Bradshaw, 1855     Bradshaw's illustrated travellers' hand book in [afterw.] to France George Bradshaw, 1855     The Publisher, 1908     The Journal of Education, 1906     British Books, 1908     France and the Grand Tour J. Black, 2003-04-15 In this innovative study of the Grand Tour Black relies on archival sources to provide an exploration of the real tourist experience rather than as for the majority of studies of the Grand Tour an account that is essentially based on travel literature While sensitive to wider cultural dimensions the author demonstrates his interest in the experience of tourists particularly the circumstances they encountered and the impact of the Grand Tour on British Society     New General Biographical Dictionary Hugh James Rose, 1848     Routledge Library Editions: Study of Shakespeare Various, 2021-11-01 This 14 volume set contains titles originally published between 1926 and 1992 An eclectic mix this collection examines Shakespeare's work from a number of different perspectives looking at history language performance and more it includes references to many of his plays as well as his sonnets     Pulp and Paper Magazine of Canada, 1929     Supplement to the Fourth, Fifth, and Sixth Editions, 1820

Victorian Women and the Economies of Travel, Translation and Culture, 1830-1870 Judith Johnston, 2016-02-24 Both travel and translation involve a type of journey one with literal and metaphorical dimensions Judith Johnston brings together these two richly resonant modes of getting from here to there as she explores their impact on culture with respect to the work of Victorian women Using the metaphor of the published journey whether it involves actual travel or translation Johnston focusses particularly on the relationships of various British women with continental Europe At the same time she sheds light on the possibility of appropriation and British imperial enhancement that such contact produces Johnston's book is in part devoted to case studies of women such as Sarah Austin Mary Busk Anna Jameson Charlotte Guest Jane Sinnett and Mary Howitt who are representative of women travellers translators and journalists during a period when women became increasingly robust participants in the publishing industry Whether they wrote about their own travels or translated the foreign language texts of other writers Johnston shows women were establishing themselves as actors in the broad business of culture In widening our understanding of the ways in which gender and modernity functioned in the early decades of the Victorian age Johnston's book makes a strong case for a greater appreciation of the contributions nineteenth century women made to what is termed the knowledge empire     The Lancet, 1916     Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record of British and Foreign Literature, 1901     World Highway Report, 1976     The Athenæum, 1859     The Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record, 1929     Journal of Education and School World, 1903     The Holy Bible, 1852
