Northern Cape Geography Paper 2 June 2014:

Cape Verde, Let's Go Derek Pardue, 2015-11-15 Musicians rapping in kriolu a hybrid of Portuguese and West African languages spoken in Cape Verde have recently emerged from Lisbon's periphery. They popularize the struggles with identity and belonging among young people in a Cape Verdean immigrant community that shares not only the kriolu language but its culture and history. Drawing on fieldwork and archival research in Portugal and Cape Verde, Derek Pardue introduces Lisbon's kriolu rap scene and its role in challenging metropolitan Portuguese identities. Pardue demonstrates that Cape Verde, while relatively small within the Portuguese diaspora, offers valuable lessons about the politics of experience and social agency within a postcolonial context that remains poorly understood. As he argues, knowing more about both Cape Verdeans and the Portuguese invites clearer assessments of the relationship between the experience and policies of migration. That in turn allows us to better gauge citizenship as a balance of individual achievement and cultural ascription. Deftly shifting from domestic to public spaces and from social media to ethnographic theory, Pardue describes an overlooked phenomenon transforming Portugal, one sure to have parallels in former colonial powers across twenty-first century Europe. Cynthia Rosenzweig, Carolyn Z. Mutter, Erik Mencos Contreras, 2021-04-13 This two-part handbook focuses on the work that the Agricultural Model Intercomparison and Improvement Project (AgMIP) accomplished using a new method, the AgMIP Regional Integrated Assessment Protocol, in Sub-Saharan Africa (SSA) and South Asia (SA) with funding from the UK Department for International Development. Through this research, AgMIP substantially improves the characterization and understanding of food security in SSA and SA and how it is affected by climate variability and change. The chapters in this handbook demonstrate how AgMIP has enhanced the capacity of developing country researchers and stakeholders to work together exploring and prioritizing adaptation to current and future climate stresses. Part 1 describes regional integrated assessment methods and analyses, while Part 2 presents the outcomes of farming systems.

studies The entire volume shows how AgMIP has established as a public good protocols for Regional Integrated Assessments that improve the capability of developing countries to address climate change challenges Related Link s Education, Creativity, and Economic Empowerment in Africa T.
