Kashoki, 2017-09-20 Originally published in 1978 this volume is divided into 3 parts Part 1 presents an overview of the linguistic situation in Zambia who speaks which languages where they are spoken what these languages are like Special emphasis is given to the extensive survey of the languages of the Kafue basin where extensive changes and relocations have taken place Part 2 is on language use patterns of competence and of extension for certain languages in urban settings configurations of comprehension across language boundaries how selected groups of multilinguals employ each of their languages and for what purposes what languages are used in radio and television broadcasting and how decisions to use or not use a language are made Part 3 involves language and formal education what languages Zambian and foreign are used at various levels in the schools which are taught with what curricula methods how teachers are trained how issues such as adult literacy are approached and with what success Education Versus Qualifications? John Oxenham, 2024-09-18 Originally published in 1984 this book investigates the validity of educational qualifications how they are determined what justifications exist for them and how they change It examines the assumption linking education and productivity and explores the belief that the ways in which scholastic qualifications are acquired distort education In the investigations the labour market the school and community are not treated as black boxes with no questions asked of their contents Each is opened and placed under the microscope Human resource personnel are asked to explain qualifications and selection for jobs Supervisors are asked to estimate the quality of their workers Teachers are observed in classrooms Parents are asked what they hope for when they send their children to school Simultaneously research from a wide range of countries and cultures is explored Zambia Marcia Burdette, 2021-12-12 This accessible case study offers a fully rounded picture of Zambia's course since independence chronicling the periods of boom and decline after the fall in the price of copper around the mid 1970s The author advocates an internally oriented economic strategy to retain industries and livelihoods and investigates the ability of the current leadership to achieve this Conference Papers East African Universities Social Science Council, 1966 Zambia Christopher Adam, Paul Collier, Michael Gondwe, 2014 Zambia is a landlocked mineral dependent country in Southern Africa whose history is intimately entwined with the copper mining industry Having gained Independence from Britain in 1964 at the height of a copper boom the country experienced a slow and painful economic decline over the next quarter century However following a traumatic and protracted process of economic adjustment through the 1990s and early 2000s Zambia's economic potential is now better than it has been at any time since Independence This book which contains a set of rigorous but accessible essays by a range of Zambian and international scholars seeks to examine the challenges and opportunities that currently face Zambian policymakers as they seek to harness the country's valuable natural assets to broad based and sustainable economic growth over the coming decades Written in a non technical manner by leading scholars in the field the chapters address key challenges in the areas of natural resource management agriculture trade employment and migration education finance and investment This is the second volume in the Africa Policies for Prosperity series following on from the successful first volume on Kenya Conference Papers, 1966

Authoritarian Origins of Democratic Party Systems in Africa Rachel Beatty Riedl, 2014-02-13 Why have seemingly similar African countries developed very different forms of democratic party systems Despite virtually ubiquitous conditions that are assumed to be challenging to democracy low levels of economic development high ethnic heterogeneity and weak state capacity nearly two dozen African countries have maintained democratic competition since the early 1990s Yet the forms of party system competition vary greatly from highly stable nationally organized well institutionalized party systems to incredibly volatile particularistic parties in systems with low institutionalization To explain their divergent development Rachel Beatty Riedl points to earlier authoritarian strategies to consolidate support and maintain power The initial stages of democratic opening provide an opportunity for authoritarian incumbents to attempt to shape the rules of the new multiparty system in their own interests but their power to do so depends on the extent of local support built up over time Resources in Education, 1998

Examining Young Learners: Research and Practice in Assessing the English of School-age Learners Szilvia Papp, Shelagh Rixon, 2018 The proposed book on child second language L2 development and assessment will be a state of the art account of what we currently know about how children learn L2s in formal contexts and how that knowledge impacts on the design development and evaluation of language assessment products for young learners The uniqueness of child L2 development within the classroom is highlighted by considering children's L2 needs typical patterns of development and the role of instruction and assessment in how children learn Common issues shared in child L2 acquisition studies language testing and educational assessment are explored by linking research carried out within the educational academic and testing communities Several case studies are described from different educational contexts around the world where teaching and assessment of young language learners takes place In particular the book presents the Cambridge English approach to assessing young learners of English and presents a framework for the development research and validation activities around the Cambridge English suite battery for children Translations on Sub-Saharan Africa United States.
