If an ionization only has the large (the negative) and relative parts, the section is a $\frac{1}{2}$ section; but if the large is cut so that anterior and posterior portions result, the section is a $\frac{3}{4}$ section. You are told to cut a (dissection) animal along two planes so that the lungs are observable in both sections. The two sections that meet this requirement are the $\frac{1}{2}$ and $\frac{3}{4}$ sections.
