ANIMAE Emma Coccioli,2019-09-19 Romanticism the brooding and intensely personal eighteenth century art and literary movement takes on a new lease of life in this carefully curated collection of interviews with contemporary artists from around the world Informed by the writings of the renowned psychoanalyst James Hillman Romanticism is reconsidered from a twenty first century perspective Moving past a purely formal presentation of the artists work this text strives to uncover the deeper meaning and more pressing issues present in the artworks All connected by a similar romantic vein Emma Coccioli explores each artist s individual practice through a series of carefully selected questions For Coccioli discussions of the moral issue and the future of the world also form an important part of the interviews Coccioli acknowledges that artists have often been asked questions about their role in relation to the moral issue and the problem of nihilism However even if we have an inherent understanding of the concepts of good and evil Coccioli argues that there is a need to re examine the modern day psyche as it tends to be apathetic and with little emotional resonance on our actions and behaviour Global overpopulation climate change and the planet s limited resources are also meaningfully discussed in this collection of interviews In questioning the artists whose work addresses even remotely these topics Coccioli encourages them to consider what they believe to be the greatest threats to today s global community and to suggest solutions that might be adopted by future generations This original and engaging look at contemporary art practice presents a sophisticated discussion of some of the most pressing issues for modern day society The interdisciplinary nature of this book means that it will appeal to students scholars artists and to anyone with an interest in the fascinating world of contemporary art
