democratic religious space characterized by freewheeling theological conversations DIY rituals and the sanctification of animals Taneja observes the visitors who come mainly from the Muslim and Dalit neighborhoods of Delhi and uses their conversations and letters to the jinns as an archive of voices so often silenced He finds that their veneration of the jinns recalls pre modern religious traditions in which spiritual experience was inextricably tied to ecological surroundings In this enchanted space Taneja encounters a form of popular Islam that is not a relic of bygone days but a vibrant form of resistance to state repression and post colonial visions of India
