

BRINGING HOME A NEW DOG

When you bring home a new dog or puppy they need time to decompress and adjust to their new surroundings. Here's a few tips to make the transition as stress free as possible.

BRINGING THEM HOME

Car rides can be stressful for dogs so be prepared. Crates are the safest option but if this isn't an option have them secured in the back seat rather than the front seat. Bring tasty treats with you (they may not eat them if stressed). 2 people are better than one. This means someone can drive whilst the other stays near the dog. If they need lifted into the car have the person that has been caring for them lift them in if possible. Bring towels/ cloths incase they have an accident. Go straight home. Don't stop for errands!!

FIRST THING AT HOME

Take them out on a leash and let them sniff around. Do this even if your garden is secure as a shy or nervous dog maybe difficult to get back inside. Puppies will tend to stay close but older dogs are usually more independent and will travel further. Escaped dogs is a common problem with newly adopted dogs.

HOUSE TRAINING

Start on this right away. Assume every dog is a puppy and needs to learn the rules. Take them out on a leash and give them time to settle. Some dogs take longer to potty if leashed. Add a cue for them to potty and praise and reward when they do. Praise and reward when they potty not when you are heading back into the house as that is reinforcing a different behavior.

ACCIDENTS HAPPEN

Accidents will happen. Remain calm and remember shouting will likely just make your dog try and hide from you when they need to potty. If you catch them starting to potty, distract them and quickly take them outside. If you find an old accident just clean it up with appropriate enzymatic cleaner. Shouting will just confuse your dog as they won't understand why you are doing it.

THIS IS YOUR NEW HOME

This varies for each dogs and nervous dogs will need more time. Once they've been outside to potty give them a 'tour' of the house. Stay calm and relaxed. Don't fuss them or go too fast. Let them sniff and investigate their new home. Go at their pace. If there's something you don't want them chewing keep it out of reach. If they chew on something inappropriate, distract them and offer a suitable chew. Let them investigate their sleeping area and then let them have some quiet time. If they want cuddles this is a great time for that. A long lasting chew can help but don't give them one if there are other dogs in the house. At this stage we don't know how they will react to each other.

THIS IS YOUR HUMAN FAMILY

We want this to be a positive experience for our dogs. Introductions should be done with one person at a time so as not to cause overwhelm. Stay calm and relaxed: be careful with children as they can be a little over enthusiastic. Don't pick up, kiss, hug, pat them on the head or stare at them. Removing sunglasses and caps can help as well. Let the dog come to you and don't force interactions. If they accept pets stop for a bit and see if they re-engage with you. This lets you know they want the petting to continue.

INTRODUCING OTHER PETS

Ensure all introductions are done at a pace that's right for all the pets involved. Dog to dog introductions are best done outside in a neutral area but if they have to be done at your house OUTSIDE is better than inside. Safety is paramount when introducing new pets and dogs should be introduced one at a time. Avoid doorways, gates and confined spaces.

ONCE THEY'VE MET

Some dogs may seem like long lost friends from the beginning but others need more time. Employ crates and gated communities so that each dog has quiet time away from the other. Don't leave them together unsupervised. If both are relaxed and confident on walks take them together. For a more nervous dog have one person walking each dog. Watch them when at home, see if there are any spaces, toys or food they guard. Feed them separately. If they are tense around each other distract them and consider seeking professional advice.

STAY NEAR HOME

Your dog is just getting used to their new surroundings so while walks around the neighborhood are fine there's no need to go further afield. Check to see how loud noises, cars, trucks, kids playing or other environmental distractions affect your dog.

NO SPA DAY OR PARTY

You may be excited to show off your new dog or puppy but it really is best to give them quiet time when they first arrive. There's no need to throw a party and invite all your friends as this can overwhelm many dogs. Likewise baths and grooming are stressful for many dogs so unless absolutely necessary let them settle in before introducing bath time.
