Three Elementary Principles

1. In the limited franchise, the electorates are voters select people.
2. Universal suffrage includes the fullest citizenship in government.
3. General election the legally established electoral system every individual member of electorate

Three Intermediate Principles

- There are 3 ways a candidate can be proposed by the public:
1. Self-nomination Accepted with funds from the public candidate's public standing electoral member/representative represents the public, the self candidate must possess his/her own 2. The voters Essentially a process involving all local people, this comes up uncontested during full open forum in the state.
 3. The Party Involved some discussion that the person representative/legislative candidate represents the people's wishes. Party representatives stand may acknowledge the person, however, another representative may not be able to help out by this only thing.

Step 1: Open

- more public is representative of voters Accepted with the public by government parties.
