Security Officer Field Test Training Guide:

Field Tests of a Model Health and Safety Program for the Mining Industry Robert H. Peters, Louis Schaffer, 1986 The objective of the project described in this report was to design and field test a model health and safety program at a coal mining company and a gold mining company The model program was implemented primarily by providing training on loss control accident investigation and the operation of mobile equipment and by providing technical assistance to help solve health and safety problems Data were obtained from company records on occupational injuries illnesses accidents and near misses and through direct observation of employees performing a large number of randomly selected jobs At the coal mine employees were observed five times over a 15 month period At the gold mine employees were observed six times over a 16 month period During the study the percentage of sampled jobs containing one or more safety deficiencies decreased from 74 3 pct to 36 6 pct at the coal mine and from 86 4 pct to 19 1 pct at the gold mine Work on this project was performed by Woodward Associates Inc under a Bureau of Mines contract

Security Officer's Handbook Edward Kehoe, 1994-04-12 The Security Officer's Handbook fulfills the distinct need for a single method of setting up the field operations needed to provide adequate protection to the client firm or individual The Standard Operating Procedure System asks all the questions required to survey any protection objective In addition the system provides all the basic information needed to answer those questions and leads to the implementation of the tactical or mission standard operating procedure The Standard Operating Procedure System may be applied to any type of security or protection operation and may be modified expanded or contracted without needing to rewrite or redesign an existing security program Details a system to survey implement and maintain at full operation effectiveness many types of assets protection programs Provides the basis for the vital training required by every security or physical
