

- a. Company A requires a replacement access switch in the wiring closet. The company requires the switch to support VoIP and multicast, accommodate future growth of users and increased bandwidth usage. The switch must support a minimum of 35 current users and have a high-speed uplink. List a few of models that meet those requirements.

Answers will vary. 2960-S or 3560-X with 48 port capacity and at least two 1G/10G uplinks

- b. Company B would like to extend services to a conference room on an as-needed basis. The switch will be placed on the conference room table, and switch security is a priority.

Answers will vary. A Compact LAN switch such as the 2960-C

Part 3: Select a Distribution/Core Layer Switch

The distribution/core switch is the backbone of the network for the company. A reliable network core is of paramount importance for the function of the company. A network backbone switch provides both adequate capacity for current and future traffic requirements and resilience in the event of failure. They also require high throughput, high availability, and advanced quality of service (QoS). These switches usually reside in the main wiring closet (MDF) along with high speed servers, routers, and the termination point of your ISP.
