November 2014 Grade11 Economics Paper:

Burnt by Democracy Jacqueline Kennelly, 2023-11-30 Burnt by Democracy traces the political ascendance of neoliberalism and its effects on youth. The book explores democracy and citizenship as described in interviews with over forty young people ages 16 to 30 who have either experienced homelessness or identify as an activist living in five liberal democracies: Canada, Australia, New Zealand, the United States, and the United Kingdom. Highlighting significant cuts to social and affordable housing, astronomical increases in the costs of higher education, and the transformation and erosion of state benefits systems, Jacqueline Kennelly argues that democracy's decline is not occurring because young people are apathetic or focused on informal politics or unaware of their civic duties. Rather, it is because of collective misunderstanding about how democracy is actually structured, how individuals learn to participate, and how growing wealth inequality has undermined the capacity of those at the bottom to meaningfully advocate for changes that might improve their conditions. Against a vivid and often heart-breaking backdrop of stories from young people struggling to survive and thrive under conditions of ever-expanding state retrenchment and inequality, Burnt by Democracy makes a timely and impassioned plea for protecting and strengthening democracy by truly levelling the playing field for all.

Policy-Making in the GCC Neil Quilliam, Mark C. Thompson, 2017-09-11 The GCC is a major player in the post-2011 reordering of the Middle East. Despite the rise in prominence of individual Gulf states, especially Kuwait, Qatar, Saudi Arabia, and the United Arab Emirates, and the growth of the GCC as a collective entity, surprisingly little attention has been paid to the actual mechanics of policy making in the region. This book analyses the vital role that institutions are coming to play in shaping policy in the Gulf Arab states. The research coincides with two key developments that have given institutions new importance in the policy process: the emergence of a new generation of leaders in the Gulf and the era of low oil prices. Both developments, along with dramatic demographic change, have compelled state and citizens to re-evaluate the nature of the social contract that binds them together. Contributors assess the changing relationship between state and citizen and evaluate the role that formal and informal institutions play in mediating such change and informing policy. The book shows how academic, social, and economic institutions are responding to the increasingly complex process of decision making where citizens demand better services and further empowerment, and states are obliged to seek wider counsel, although wanting to retain ultimate authority. With contributions from both academics and practitioners, this book will be highly relevant for researchers and policymakers alike.

Quality education Muchativugwa L. Hove, Martha Matashu, 2021-11-30 This book investigates the intersections between education, social justice, gendered violence, and human rights in South African schools and universities. The rich and multifarious tapestry of scholarship and literature emanating from South African classrooms provides a fascinating lens through which we can understand the complex consequences of the economies of education, social justice imperatives, gendered violence in the lives of women and children, and marginalised communities. The scholarship in the book challenges readers to imagine alternative futures predicated on the transformational capacity of a democratic South Africa Contributors to this volume examine the many ways in which social justice and gendered violence mirror express project and articulate the larger phenomenon of human rights violations in Africa and how in turn the discourse of human rights informs the ways in which we articulate interrogate conceptualise enact and interpret quality education The book also wrestles with the linguistic contradictions and ambiguities in the articulation of quality education in public and private spaces This book is essential reading for scholars seeking a solid grounding in exploring quality education the instances of epistemic disobedience the political implications of place and power and human rights in theory and practice

Interpersonal Relationships Martha Peaslee Levine, 2022-07-27 Relationships are a necessary part of life This has always been true community helped keep us safe as dangerous animals prowled outside our caves We are now even more interconnected with each other What do we know about interpersonal relationships How do we develop the skills to connect with each other Relationships can bring value and meaning to our lives but sometimes they can have negative effects and impair our view of ourselves and others We need to find ways to keep hope even if some relationships have scarred us We need to recognize skills that we can use to form closer relationships in both our professional and personal lives This book examines interpersonal relationships from many different angles It will allow the reader to look at relationships in new ways and perhaps find tools to enhance and deepen connections within their lives

Family Life, Family Law, and Family Justice Marsha Garrison, 2022-10-28 Family Life Family Law and Family Justice Tying the Knot combines history social science and legal analysis to chart the evolution and interdependence of family life and family law portray current trends in family life explain the pressing policy challenges these trends have produced and analyze the changes in family law that are essential to meeting these challenges The challenges are large and pressing Across the industrialized West nonmarital birth relational stress multi partner fertility and relationship dissolution have increased producing a dramatic rise in single parenthood poverty and childhood risk This concentration of familial and economic risk accelerates socioeconomic inequality and retards intergenerational mobility Although the divide is most pronounced in the United States the same patterns now affect families throughout the Western world Across the European Union there are 9.2 million lone parents and just under half of their families live in poverty Tying the Knot demonstrates how today's family patterns are deeply rooted in long standing class based differences in family life and explains why these class based differences have accelerated It explains how the values that guide family law development inevitably reflect the world in which families live and develops a new family law capable of meeting the needs of twenty first century families The book will be of considerable interest to family specialists from a number of fields including law demography economics history political science public health social policy and sociology
