

JANUARY ... DOES IT BRING YOU JOY?

- 1 January is the time for renewal on many fronts. It's the time of the year to re-evaluate everything. If something or someone doesn't bring you joy, it's pretty pointless carrying on with it. If we want the best, we must do our best. We must keep our family space safe and secure so that we are thriving as a people and as a nation. 5
- 2 In order to live their best lives, people are spreading themselves thinner and thinner with multiple streams of income. In the process we earn more but live less, we lose our focus of what is important.
- 3 With social media, keeping up with other Instagrammers are having a devastating effect on self-perception. Everything appears to be real perfect, but the fabric of our society is frazzled. Use January to take stock and start navigating new ways of doing things. Instead of multiple streams of sole sessions, travel more, and connect with people and places that bring you joy. 10 thoughts on ways the West might better contend with Beijing's geo-economic influence Donald Davidson on Truth, Meaning, and the Mental Gerhard Preyer, 2012-09-06 This volume offers a reappraisal of Donald Davidson's influential philosophy of thought, meaning, and language. Twelve specially written essays by leading philosophers in the field illuminate a range of themes and problems relating to these subjects and engage in particular with Ernie Lepore and Kirk Ludwig's interpretation of Davidson's thought Revisiting Multiculturalism in Canada Shibao Guo, Lloyd Wong, 2015-12-01 In 1971 Canada was the first nation in the world to establish an official multiculturalism policy with an objective to assist cultural groups to overcome barriers to integrate into Canadian society while maintaining their heritage language and culture. Since then Canada's practice and policy of multiculturalism have endured and been deemed as successful by many Canadians. As well, Canada's multiculturalism policy has also enjoyed international recognition as being pioneering and effectual. Recent public opinion suggests that an increasing majority of Canadians identify multiculturalism as one of the most important symbols of Canada's national identity. On the other hand, this apparent successful record has not gone unchallenged. Debates, critiques, and challenges to Canadian multiculturalism by academics and politicians have always existed to some degree since its policy inception over four decades ago. In the current international context, there has been a growing assault on and subsequent retreat from multiculturalism in many countries. In Canada, debates about multiculturalism continue to emerge and percolate, particularly over the past decade or so. In this context, we are grappling with the following questions: What is the future of multiculturalism, and is it sustainable in Canada? How is multiculturalism related to egalitarianism, interculturalism, racism, national identity, belonging, and loyalties? What role does multiculturalism play for youth in terms of their identities, including racialization? How does multiculturalism play out in educational policy and the classroom in Canada? These central questions are addressed by contributions from some of Canada's leading scholars and researchers in philosophy, psychology, sociology, history, education, religious studies, youth studies, and Canadian studies. The authors theorize and discuss the debates and critiques surrounding multiculturalism in Canada and include some very important case studies.

Scripturalizing Jewishness through Blackness Aurélien Mokoko Gampiot, 2024-08-27 While conversions to Judaism are generally understudied in France, conversions of Black persons go unnoticed. The past three decades witnessed an increasing number of claims to Jewishness in Africa and conversions in the African diaspora and Israel. Their diverse life stories reflect deep spiritual quests. Scripturalizing Jewishness through Blackness: Black Jews in France describes the multiple ways in which they practice and claim their Judaism, relate to their fellow Jews, and reconstruct their identities. Whether former Christians or native Jews, they re-define their racial and ethnic identities as members of two minority groups in their interactions with Jewish texts and communities to find their place in the French Jewry and the broader French society, where they have to face both anti-Semitism and racism. After fifteen years of fieldwork, Aurélien Mokoko Gampiot offers an original analysis of their individual and collective itineraries Fundamental Rights in the EU Sonia Morano-Foadi, Lucy

Vickers,2015-04-30 This collection joins the new and expanding scholarship on the protection of fundamental rights in Europe and reflects on the relationship between the Court of Justice of the European Union CJEU and the European Court of Human Rights ECtHR The book questions whether the changes introduced by the Lisbon Treaty align the CJEU to the ECtHR's interpretation and methods triggering different processes of institutionalisation within a coherent European system These issues are explored through a contextual analysis of areas of law such as equality rights in employment law citizenship and migration internet law and access to justice This volume includes perspectives from the scholarly community as well as practitioners judges and European policy makers It also examines the state of accession of the EU to the European Convention on Human Rights ECHR and considers the legal implications of the interactions of the two courts for the protection of the fundamental rights of EU citizens and individuals legally residing in Europe The volume is essential reading for practitioners judges European policy makers and members of the scholarly community working in this area of law

China's Vertical Multilateralism and the Global South Dominik Mierzejewski, Jarosław Jura, Bartosz Kowalski, Mario Esteban,2025-10-21 This book provides an in depth analysis of China led multilateralism and decodes China's narratives and political and business practices both from theoretical and practical dimensions Introducing the mechanisms that govern China led multilateral formats in what China sees as the Global South the study offers a comparative analysis and checks whether China uses a one size fits all strategy towards the selected case study formats and adopts a more differentiated regional approach The case studies cover the following China led multilateral formats China ASEAN Forum on China Africa Cooperation FOCAC China Central and Eastern Europe and China CELAC The authors introduce four primary practices of China's management of relations within these platforms executing discursive power cultivating elite diplomacy influencing public opinion and navigating economic interactions to illustrate the bilateral and informal nature of China led multilateralism practices They argue that the bilateral approach is driven by China's will to keep its paramount position within the formats and its pursuit to exploit the divisions among countries in these formats Moreover China's relations with the Global South community are governed by informal networks that give the impression of non interference and position China as the principal power due to these relationships inherent asymmetry Cognizant of bilateral and informal drivers of China's multilateral practices the book compares China's relations with selected case studies of countries under the multilateral umbrella Brazil Cambodia Chile Kenya Poland Serbia South Africa and Thailand It considers the growing tensions between China and the West surrounding the crisis of the COVID 19 pandemic the centralisation of power in China and the Russian war in Ukraine Shedding light on China's policies and practices on bilateral and multilateral levels this book will be of interest to researchers studying International Relations Asian Politics the politics of the Global South and Chinese Studies
