

4.5 Comment on the liquidity position of the company. Quote THREE relevant financial indicators (actual figures/ratios/percentages) and their trends.

Any THREE valid financial indicators:

Name of financial indicator	✓	✓	✓

- Current ratio: 3,6 : 1 → 1,6 : 1 / decreased to 1,6 : 1
- Acid test ratio: 3,1 : 1 → 1,2 : 1 / decreased to 1,2 : 1
- Stock turnover rate: 5,1 → 6,8 times p.a / increased to 6,8 times
- Debtors' collection period: 35 → 40 days / increased to 40 days

General comment: For 3 marks (need only mention 3 indicators):

The liquidity has generally improved. The current ratio and acid-test ratio were too high in 2013. They are now much more efficient in 2014. The stock is now being sold more quickly which will generate greater profit. However the debtors are paying slightly more slowly – this trend must be rectified next year.

One valid point per indicator OR 3 marks for overall comment:
Excellent answer = 3 marks; Good = 2; Poor = 1; Incorrect = 0
Increases/decreases are not a comment – these are trends
Comment would be on improvement or not / efficiency

Expected responses for 1 mark each:

- The current ratio improved / was possibly too high in 2013 / cash was too high / current assets do not earn any return / they may be more efficient in 2014.
- The acid test ratio improved / is more efficient in 2014 / cash is lower
- The stock turnover rate has improved / stock increased but is being sold more quickly / assists liquidity and is appropriate for a supermarket.
- The debtors are paying more slowly / this trend must be rectified / normal credit terms 30 days.

4.6 The directors decided to increase the loan during the current financial year. Quote TWO financial indicators (actual figures/ratios/percentages) that are relevant to their decision. Explain why this was a good decision, or not.

ROTC ☒

- This is 18,8% ☒

DEBT/EQUITY RATIO ☒

- This is 0,1 : 1 (see 4.4.2) ☒

Explanation: Depends on calculation above

- Positively geared as ROTC is higher than interest rate ☒
- Low financial risk / Not making much use of loans (it relies more on funds from internal sources) ☒

The Betrayal Kim Christian Priemel, 2018-05-17 At the end of World War II the Allies faced a threefold challenge how to punish perpetrators of appalling crimes for which the categories of genocide and crimes against humanity had to be coined how to explain that these had been committed by Germany of all nations and how to reform Germans The Allied answer to this conundrum was the application of historical reasoning to legal procedure In the thirteen Nuremberg trials held between 1945 and 1949 and in corresponding cases elsewhere a concerted effort was made to punish key perpetrators while at the same time providing a complex analysis of the Nazi state and German history Building on a long debate about Germany's divergence from a presumed Western path of development Allied prosecutors sketched a historical trajectory which had led Germany to betray the Western model Historical reasoning both accounted for the moral breakdown of a civilised nation and rendered plausible arguments that this had indeed been a collective failure rather than one of a small criminal clique The prosecutors therefore carefully laid out how institutions such as private enterprise academic science the military or bureaucracy which looked ostensibly similar to their opposite numbers in the Allied nations had been corrupted in Germany even before Hitler's rise to power While the argument depending on individual protagonists subject matters and contexts met with uneven success in court it offered a final twist which was of obvious appeal in the Cold War to come if Germany had lost its way it could still be brought back into the Western fold The first comprehensive study of the Nuremberg trials The Betrayal thus also explores how history underpins transitional trials as we encounter them in today's courtrooms from Arusha to The Hague

Framing the Threat Imke Köhler, 2019-03-04 There is great power in the use of words words create most of what we consider to be real and true Framing our words and narratives is thus a tool of power but a power that also comes with limitations This intriguing issue is the topic of Framing the Threat an investigation of the relationship between language and security and of how discourse creates the scope of possibility for political action In particular the book scrutinizes and compares the security narratives of the former US presidents George W Bush and Barack Obama It shows how their framings of identity i.e. of the American self and the enemy other facilitated a certain construction of threat that shaped the presidents' detention and interrogation policies By defining what was necessary in the name of national security Bush's narrative justified the operation of the detention center at Guantanamo Bay and rendered the mistreatment of detainees possible a situation that would have otherwise been illegal Bush's framings therefore enabled legal limits to be pushed and made the violation of rules appear legitimate Obama in contrast constructed a threat scenario that required an end to rule violations and the closure of Guantanamo for security reasons According to this narrative a return to the rule of law was imperative if the American people were to be kept safe However Obama's framing was continually challenged and it was never able to dominate public discourse Consequently Framing the Threat argues Obama was unable to implement the policy changes he had announced
