

Problem of the Month: Fair Games

The Problems of the Month (POM) are used in a variety of ways to promote problem-solving and to foster the first standard of mathematical practice from the Common Core State Standards: "Make sense of problems and persevere in solving them." The POM may be used by a teacher to promote problem-solving and to address the differentiated needs of her students. A department or grade level may engage their students in a POM to showcase problem-solving as a key aspect of doing mathematics. It can also be used schoolwide to promote a problem-solving theme at a school. The goal is for all students to have the experience of attacking and solving non-routine problems and developing their mathematical reasoning skills. Although obtaining and justifying solutions to the problems is the objective, the process of learning to problem-solve is even more important.

The Problem of the Month is structured to provide reasonable tasks for all students in a school. The structure of a POM is a shallow floor and a high ceiling, so that all students can productively engage, struggle, and persevere. The Primary Version Level A is designed to be accessible to all students and especially the key challenge for grades K – 1. Level A will be challenging for most second and third graders. Level B may be the limit of where fourth and fifth grade students have success and understanding. Level C may stretch sixth and seventh grade students. Level D may challenge most eighth and ninth grade students, and Level E should be challenging for most high school students. These grade- level expectations are just estimates and should not be used as an absolute minimum expectation or maximum limitation for students. Problem-solving is a learned skill, and students may need many experiences to develop their reasoning skills, approaches, strategies, and the perseverance to be successful. The Problem of the Month builds on sequential levels of understanding. All students should experience Level A and then move through the tasks in order to go as deeply as they can into the problem. There will be those students who will not have access into even Level A. Educators should feel free to modify the task to allow access at some level.

Overview:

In the Problem of the Month Fair Games, students use mathematical concepts of probability and expected value. The mathematical topics that underlie this POM are knowledge of sample spaces, fairness, probability ratios, experimental and theoretical probability, counting principles/strategies, and expected value.

In the first level of the POM, students play a race game using an unfair spinner. The students through experimenting determine whether the game is fair for all players and who is favored. In part B, the students keep track of the wins and losses of each player, then graph the data and determine who is more likely to win based on the
