

CHAPTER 1: Drawings and Design
CHAPTER 2: Neighbourhood Analysis

This Assignment is a Multiple Choice Assignment

Marks: 1 mark per question.

1. Answer: 3

An architectural scale of 10" = 1'0" means a measurement of 10 inches equals 1 foot. A measurement of 2½ on the same scale would therefore represent a length of 0.25 feet (2.5 inches x 1/10 ft/in.).

2. Answer: 2

Design drawings show the concept, general appearance, and function of a building. These generally consist of floor plans and front elevation or perspective drawing. Design drawings are often used as advertising tools in magazines or developers' brochures. As well, they are used by designers to convey the intent of a house design to the owner prior to starting final working drawings.

3. Answer: 4

Working drawings show details and dimensions for the entire project. These drawings are used for the construction of the project (hence also called construction drawings) and include a detailed site plan, detailed floor and basement plans, four exterior elevations showing finish materials, and technical specifications. For simpler houses, the architectural, structural, mechanical, and electrical components can be shown on one architectural drawing; larger and more complex houses may require a separate drawing for each of these.

4. Answer: 4

All options are possible outcomes of having spot commercial uses in a single-family residential neighbourhood.

5. Answer: 3

Internal variables of a district or neighbourhood include zoning and existing land use, option (C); character and appearance, option (D), as well as amenities. Connective and static elements are both types of external variables, options (A) and (B).

6. Answer: 2

The engineering scale is typically used for site (or plot) plans and by a city to show the location of services, such as sewers. The scale is based on the division of 1 inch by multiples of ten.

7. Answer: 4

Site plans show the location and size of water, storm sewer, and gas mains; and transformers and electrical services – all of which are underground connections to street services. Site plans also show the site size and corner angles; abutting streets or lanes; location and dimensions of driveways, units and outbuildings; elevation of the finished main floor and ground level; and landscape plans.
