Leo Strauss examines the problem of natural right and argues that there is a firm foundation in reality for the distinction between right and wrong in ethics and politics. On the centenary of Strauss's birth and the fiftieth anniversary of the Walgreen Lectures which spawned the work Natural Right and History, it remains as controversial and essential as ever. Strauss makes a significant contribution towards an understanding of the intellectual crisis in which we find ourselves and brings to his task an admirable scholarship and a brilliant incisive mind. John H. Hall, American Political Science Review.

Leo Strauss (1899-1973) was the Robert Maynard Hutchins Distinguished Service Professor Emeritus in Political Science at the University of Chicago.

Toward Natural Right and History Leo Strauss, 2022-12-22. Collected lectures and essays offering insight into the philosopher and his ideas on politics, natural law, and social sciences. Toward Natural Right and History collects six lectures by Leo Strauss written while he was at the New School and a full transcript of his 1949 Walgreen Lectures. These works show Strauss working toward the ideas he would present in fully matured form in his landmark work Natural Right and History. In them, he explores natural right and the relationship between modern philosophers and the thought of the ancient Greek philosophers, as well as the relation of political philosophy to contemporary political science and to major political and historical events, especially the Holocaust and World War II. Previously unpublished in book form, Strauss's lectures are presented here in a thematic order that mirrors Natural Right and History and with interpretive essays by J. A. Colen, Christopher Lynch, Svetozar Minkov, Daniel Tanguay, Nathan Tarcov, and Michael Zuckert that establish their relation to the work. Rounding out the book are copious annotations and notes to facilitate further study.

The Gift of the Nile Phiroze Vasunia, 2001-12-04. The Egyptians mesmerized the ancient Greeks for scores of years. The Greek literature and art of the classical period are especially thick with representations of Egypt and Egyptians. Yet despite numerous firsthand contacts with Egypt, Greek writers constructed their own Egypt, one that differed in significant ways from actual Egyptian history, society, and culture. Informed by recent work on orientalism and colonialism, this book unravels the significance of these misrepresentations of Egypt in the Greek cultural imagination in the fifth and fourth centuries B.C.E. Looking in particular at issues of identity, otherness, and cultural anxiety, Phiroze Vasunia shows how Greek authors constructed an image of Egypt that reflected their own attitudes and prejudices about Greece itself. He focuses his discussion on Aeschylus, Suppliants, Book 2 of Herodotus, Euripides, Helen, Plato's Phaedrus, Timaeus, and Critias, and Isocrates' Busiris. Reconstructing the history of the bias that informed these writings, Vasunia shows that Egypt in these works was shaped in relation to Greek institutions, values, and ideas on such subjects as gender and sexuality, death, writing, and political and ethnic identity. This study traces the tendentiousness of Greek representations by introducing comparative Egyptian material, thus interrogating the Greek texts and authors from a cross-cultural perspective. A final chapter also considers the invasion of Egypt by Alexander the Great and shows how he exploited and revised the discursive tradition in his conquest of the country. Firmly and knowledgeably rooted in classical studies and the ancient sources, this study takes a broad look at the issue of cross-cultural exchange in antiquity by framing it within the perspective of contemporary cultural studies In addition this provocative and original work shows how Greek writers made possible literary Europe s most persistent and adaptable obsession the barbarian Connecting the Dots in World History, A Teacher's Literacy-Based Curriculum Chris Edwards,2015-10-16 In his previously written articles and books Chris Edwards has argued that teaching should be considered a field that is separate from both the field of education and from the content area fields Teaching is a field which synthesizes content and method for classroom application All of the other major intellectual fields have a canon of works which practitioners can learn from and add to but teaching does not The Connecting the Dots in World History A Teacher s Literacy Based Curriculum series changes this by showing how effective a teacher generated curriculum can be These books can inspire other teachers to create their own curricula and inspire a change in the way that the public views teachers and teaching A Study of History: Volume I: Abridgement of Volumes I-VI Arnold J.
