

Population Distributions

How does population distribution affect the outcome?

Why?

Alaska encompasses 57 million acres of unoccupied forest land, it is the largest state in the United States, yet with a population of nearly 700,000 people, there are some interesting patterns in Alaska's forest. For example, in most of the southern states and forests, the population is nearly 2 million, but where 1/3 of the 1/3 of the forest land area is unoccupied, unoccupied. What are the reasons for this high population density in the southern states and what effect does this population have on the outcome?
