Journeys from Interlaken and Prague Lincoln Phillips, 2024-08-31 Journeys from Interlaken and Prague Two different lives two different journeys A heroine and an unwilling antihero unknowingly cross paths only from a distance and their lives are changed forever Fifteen year old

Caroline Westermarck enjoys a peaceful existence with her expatriate American family in Switzerland. She adapts easily to adventure and with her grandfather at the steering wheel of their car soars over the Alps with her best friend Marta on a road trip to Munich. During her visit to Germany, Caroline revels in the everyday pleasures of a teenage girl: seeing the sights and meeting nice boys. But exposure to the fringes of the migrant crisis in Europe, from discussion at the family dinner table to Muslim women and their children begging on the streets, is her first philosophical introduction to social conflict. It is a setting far removed from her life at home. Pavel Vorotnikov is a young Russian man in an entirely different situation. He cannot take the violence fighting for a mercenary army in Syria and agrees to join a child trafficking operation in Europe. When he sees how the children are treated and is compelled to deal with the bodies of children that die in transit, he despises the gang members and even himself for what he has become. The contrast is stark, but fears and yearning are intertwined. From a Swiss mountainside park, Caroline's father looks to the distant peaks and worries about war, famine, and disease. Pavel inhabits a largely tranquil society but is not part of that dream. In a delivery to Munich, Pavel plots revenge against the gang and is awed beyond his wildest imagination when people he does not know courageously and unwittingly intervene. Caroline's life also changes as she pays the price for men who invent a reason to go to war. It is a journey to death and suffering and sacrifice that once begun cannot be forgotten, physically or emotionally.

Rehab Shoshana Walter,2025-08-12 Pulitzer finalist Shoshana Walter exposes the country s failed response to the opioid crisis and the malfeasance corruption and snake oil which blight the drug rehabilitation industry Our country s leaders all seem to agree People who suffer from addiction need treatment Today more people have access to treatment than ever before So why isn t it working The answer is that in America where anyone can get addicted only certain people get a real chance to recover Despite record numbers of overdose deaths our default response is still to punish while rehabs across the United States fail to incorporate scientifically proven strategies and exploit patients We ve heard a great deal about the opioid crisis foisted on America by Big Pharma but we ve heard too little about the other half of this epidemic the reason why so many remain mired in addiction Until now In this book you'll find the stories of four people who represent the failures of the rehab industrial complex and the ways our treatment system often prevents recovery April is a black mom in Philadelphia who witnessed firsthand how the government's punitive response to the crack epidemic impeded her own mother's recovery and then her own Chris a young middle class white man from Louisiana received more opportunities in his addiction than April including the chance to go to treatment instead of prison Yet the only program the judge permitted was one that forced him to perform unpaid back breaking labor at for profit companies Wendy is a mother from a wealthy suburb of Los Angeles whose son died in a sober living home She began investigating for profit treatment programs yet law enforcement and regulators routinely ignored her warnings allowing rehab patients to die again and again Larry is a surgeon who himself struggled with addiction who would eventually become one of the first Suboxone prescribers in the nation drawing the scrutiny of the Drug Enforcement Administration Together these four stories illustrate the pitfalls of a system that not only fails to meet the needs of people with addiction but actively benefits from maintaining their lower status They also offer insight into how we might fix that system and save lives

The Psychopolitics of Fashion Otto Von Busch, 2020-02-20 What if fashion was a state What kind of state would it be Probably not a democracy Otto von Busch sees fashion as a totalitarian state with a population all too eager to enact the decrees of its aesthetic superiority Peers police each other and deploy acts of judgment peer regulation and micro violence to uphold the aesthetic order of fashion supremacy Using four design projects as tools for inquiry Von Busch explores the seductive desires of envy and violence within fashion drawing on political theories He proposes that the violent conflicts of fashion happen not only in arid cotton fields or collapsing factories but in the everyday practice of getting dressed in the judgments sneers and rejections of others Indeed he suggests that feelings of inclusion and adoration are what make us feel the pleasure of being fashionable of being seductive popular and powerful Exploring the conflicting emotions associated with fashion Von Busch argues that while the current state of fashion is bred out of fear The Psychopolitics of Fashion can offer constructive modes of mitigation and resistance Through projects that actively work towards disarming the violent practices of dress Von Busch suggests paths towards a more engaging and meaningful experience of fashion he calls deep fashion
