to recast institutions within and interactions among states societies and peoples on a broadly Western liberal model Adopting a historical and interdisciplinary socio legal approach Sinclair supports this claim through detailed investigations of historical episodes involving three very different organizations the International Labour Organization in the interwar period the United Nations in the two decades following the Second World War and the World Bank from the 1950s through to the 1990s The book draws on a wide range of original institutional and archival materials bringing to light little known aspects of each organization s activities identifying continuities in the ideas and practices of international governance across the twentieth century and speaking to a range of pressing theoretical questions in present day international law and international relations
