Military Psychology for Africa Gideon AJ van Dyk, 2016-03-17 Military Psychology for Africa is the first textbook of its kind from Africa. Selected authors with competent military psychology knowledge, skills, expertise, and experience each contributed a chapter to this unique book. The book empowers academics, students, and military fellows to apply this knowledge at academic institutions and military units during operations and in presenting short courses. The book will also equip soldiers with new knowledge for advancing peace on the continent and abroad. Researching the Military Helena

Carreiras, Celso Castro, Sabina Frederic, 2016-03-02 Researching the Military focuses on the experiences of researchers who study the military around the world. It explores the historical, social, institutional, and personal factors that frame research and scrutinize the way knowledge in this area impacts society and policy. More than merely analyzing research experiences yet necessarily including them, it is also about the experiences of researchers, their position with regard to the object of their studies, the institutional context where they work, and the way their research impacts the academic and policy-making fields in the respective countries. The common theme to the various chapters is reflexivity, a conscious effort at addressing the conditions of research and the position of the researcher and the research participants in that interface. By collecting diverse experiences of researchers from across the world, this volume aims to enhance reflexivity in the field of military studies and to encourage the exchange of knowledge between the academic field and the military arena. This book will be of much interest to students of military studies, research methods, sociology, social anthropology, and security studies in general.

South Africa and United Nations Peacekeeping Offensive Operations Antonio Garcia, 2018-08-17 The creation of the Force Intervention Brigade (FIB) as the sharp tactical edge of the United Nations Stabilisation Mission in the Democratic Republic of the Congo (MONUSCO) tasked with the neutralising of armed groups was a watershed moment in the history of modern peace missions. What was more significant was that sub-Saharan national leaders were instrumental in the creation of the FIB. South Africa, Tanzania, and Malawi but lacked the resources to deploy such a force, and consequently the brigade was deployed under the banner of the UN. With the legacy of an African Renaissance and its role in the conception of the FIB, South Africa remains a critical player in international peace and security in sub-Saharan Africa and therefore holds a key strategic role in achieving the FIB's objectives. This comes at a critical time where blue helmets are increasingly exposed to complex and challenging security contexts. The aim of this work is to provide a conceptual model for South African military future operations and UN offensive peacekeeping operations. In this undertaking, a layer of military and Clausewitzian theory is added to offensive peacekeeping operations. Furthermore, there are sections on operational constructs, capstone and operating concepts, doctrine, and structural elements, as well as a section on mine action. This book contributes towards an understanding of the nature of modern strategy through the lens of UN offensive peacekeeping operations and provides insights into operational challenges. Handbook of the Sociology of the Military Giuseppe Caforio, Marina

Nuciari,2018-05-19 This new edition of the volume is presented on the wave of the success which had its first edition 2003 It is entirely updated to the current situation of the disciplines covered and expanded with particular regard to the new missions that have become the main challenge for the armed forces in these first decades of the new millennium with new insights to technological development toward so called cyborg warriors new forms of leadership and changes in soldier s identity and organisational culture It is compiled of documents coming from various researchers at universities around the world as well as military officers devoted to the sector of study Covered in this volume is a historical excursus of studies prior to contemporary research interpretive models and theoretical approaches developed specifically for this topic civic military relations including issues surrounding democratic control of the armed forces military culture professional training conditions and problems of minorities in the armed forces an examination of the structural change within the military over the years including new duties and functions following the Cold War South Africa's Post-Apartheid Military Lindy

Heinecken,2020-01-01 This timely book examines how the South African National Defence Force has adapted to the country s new security political and social environment since 1994 In South Africa s changed political state how has civilian control of the military been implemented and what does this mean for defence in a democracy This book presents an overview of the security environment how the mission focus of the military has changed and the implications for force procurement force preparation force employment and force sustainability The author addresses other issues such as the effect of integrating former revolutionary soldiers into a professional armed force the effect of affirmative action on meritocracy recruitment and retention military veterans looking at the difficulties they face in reintegrating back into society and finding gainful employment gender equality and mainstreaming the rise of military unions and why a confrontational instead of a more corporatist approach to labour relations has emerged HIV AIDS and the consequences this holds for the military in terms of its operational effectiveness In closing the author highlights key events that have caused the SANDF to become lost in transition and transformation spelling out some lessons learned The conclusions she draws are pertinent for the future of defence security and civil military relations of countries around the world Contemporary Issues in South African

Military Psychology Nicole Dodd,Petrus C. Bester,Justin van der Merwe,2020-05-13 Contemporary Issues in South African Military Psychology is a well timed extremely thought provoking imperative particular to the African context and deals with a highly contemporary issue within the people management and the management studies fields specifically in the military field and context This is specifically of importance as military psychology is a behavioural science that combines theory and practical application Prof Karel Stanz University of Pretoria Practice, Pleadings, and Forms in Civil Actions in
