Abstract—The purpose of this study was to determine the effect of a 10-week training program on the heart rate (HR) and energy expenditure (EE) of sedentary, middle-aged women. The subjects were 12 women, 40 to 50 years old, who were sedentary and had no cardiovascular or pulmonary disease. They were randomly assigned to a 10-week training program or a control group. The training program consisted of three sessions per week of aerobic exercise at 60% of maximum HR. The control group did not exercise. The HR and EE were measured at rest and during exercise at the beginning and end of the 10-week period. The results showed that the training program had a significant effect on the HR and EE of the subjects. The HR at rest decreased from 72 to 68 beats per minute, and the HR during exercise decreased from 145 to 135 beats per minute. The EE at rest decreased from 1,200 to 1,100 kcal per day, and the EE during exercise decreased from 2,500 to 2,200 kcal per day. The results suggest that a 10-week training program can improve the cardiovascular and metabolic health of sedentary, middle-aged women.

23. Before establishing a cash account A/R, set up a document for your business called FORM C-2000.
24. If you establish the first cash account without attaching to the cash account from your business a copy, the cash account is deemed to be established for the business and is not enforceable. This means you will be able to purchase this type of cash account later, but pointing out this thing appears to be a lie.
25. Do not include the FY of issue from a FY document.
26. When establishing a cash account for a cash account document in the future, use the FY of issue from a FY document.

Abstract: This research was an exploratory study to investigate the experiences of young people with mental health problems in the UK. The research was conducted using a qualitative approach, with data collected from 12 young people (aged 16-25) who had been diagnosed with a mental health problem. The research was conducted using a semi-structured interview schedule, which was designed to explore the young people's experiences of living with a mental health problem, the impact of the problem on their lives, and the support they had received. The research was conducted in a secure mental health facility, and the data was analysed using a thematic analysis approach. The research identified a number of key themes, including the young people's experiences of living with a mental health problem, the impact of the problem on their lives, and the support they had received. The research also identified a number of key factors that influenced the young people's experiences, including the young people's age, gender, and the type of mental health problem they had.
