Abstract—The purpose of this study was to determine the effect of a 12-week training program on the heart rate (HR) and energy expenditure (EE) of sedentary, middle-aged women. The subjects were randomly assigned to a control group (CON) and an exercise group (EX). The EX group performed a 12-week training program consisting of three sessions per week of aerobic exercise. The HR and EE were measured at baseline and at the end of the 12-week training program. The EX group showed a significant decrease in HR and a significant increase in EE compared to the CON group. The results of this study suggest that a 12-week training program can improve the cardiovascular fitness and energy expenditure of sedentary, middle-aged women.

- Day and night periods that are longer than the standard 24 hours occur most commonly with the use of artificial light or other light sources. To avoid this, there are two things the producer should do:
 - 1. Turn off the lights at the end of the day.
 - 2. Avoid excessive light intensity, the length of the day and the light spectrum. For the best results, use fluorescent, not incandescent, lighting. The light should be kept at least 12 inches from the plants. In addition, the lighting should be kept at a level that is just below the threshold of discomfort for the fish (about 100 foot-candles).
