Racism Explained To My Daughter:

Racism Explained to My Daughter Tahar Ben Jelloun, 2003 Melancholy Politics Jean-Philippe Mathy, 2011-01-01

The current cultural climate in France is often described as one of déclinisme or sinistrose a mixture of pessimism about the national future nostalgia for the past and a sinister sense of irreversible decline concerning the present The notion of democratic melancholia has become widely popular cropping up time and again in academic papers and newspaper articles In Melancholy Politics Jean Philippe Mathy examines the development of this disenchanted mood in the works of prominent French philosophers historians and sociologists since the beginning of the 1980s This period represents a significant turning point in French intellectual life as the legacy of major postwar and sixties theorists such as Lévi Strauss Derrida and Foucault was increasingly challenged by a younger generation of authors who repudiated both Marxism and structuralism The book is not a classic intellectual or cultural history of post 1968 France but rather a contribution to the understanding of the present a collection of soundings into what remains largely a complex ongoing process Seeing Whiteness Robin DiAngelo, 2023

Long before the widespread success of the 2018 book White Fragility Why It's So Hard For White People To Talk About Racism Robin DiAngelo was breaking with white solidarity and writing speaking and teaching on the relationship among white supremacy structural racism and white identity In this volume DiAngelo has gathered a selection of her groundbreaking works leading up to White Fragility Speaking as a white person to her fellow white people she seamlessly blends the personal with the political The result is an engaging and provocative analysis of the sociopolitical forces of race that shape our lives Taking up familiar ideologies such as individualism and meritocracy she breaks down how these concepts function to protect and obscure structural racism Collectively these essays show how racism infuses our society and its institutions it is a system that goes well beyond individual intentions or conscious acts of meanness By changing the question from if we are part of systemic racism to how each of us play a part DiAngelo's body of work provides a transformative framework for white identity and antiracist action in how race works Francophone Voices of the "New" Morocco in Film and Print V. Orlando, 2009-06-22 This study of Moroccan society explores the country's culture through its literature, journalism and film. It examines transitions from traditionalism to modernity within the conflicted polemics of the post 9/11 world. Addresses issues including feminism, sexuality, gender and human rights and how they are conveyed in Moroccan media.

Right From Wrong Michael Riera, Joseph Di Prisco, 2009-02-23 Does your child have a conscience? Is he remorseful when caught in a lie? Very high on any wise list of dreams for our children is the hope that they become people of integrity. But integrity is not simply something that happens as a result of unconditional love, healthy genes or good luck; it emerges if it does because parents make it a priority to exercise influence in this arena. Combining stories of children experiencing the day-to-day struggles of growing up with compassionate in-depth analysis and pragmatic counsel, Right From Wrong makes nurturing the qualities of integrity tangible to parents and to the others who might be actively involved in guiding a child's moral life. Through the author's wise and discerning eyes, we witness children as they experience loss or sadness, react to sibling rivalries, schoolyard violence and academic pressures or even while they interact at the family dinner table. The ways in which parents use listening, praise, discipline, honesty and consequences to react to these situations reinforces a child's sense of right and wrong; from these choices, readers will learn valuable lessons about a parent's power to nurture character and morality in young children.
