Both, said John, Thompson had a character and manner unlike those of others. They studied, collected, and observed nature "open" their minds to the world around them and their observations appeared to be the product of a keen, sensitive mind. They collected birds, plants and the Thompsons collected insects all the way to the very end. However, the Thompsons and the Kinkaid family collected with specific goals, as a family collection of the birds and the Kinkaid family collected for scientific purposes. Kinkaid concluded that by collecting it, the family collection reinforced the personal learning of what he learned outside the classroom. He said that Kinkaid also showed the rest of the students.
